Joint Master Recreation Plan Proposed

By DC, Jeff Elementary Board

By RON BATES

Members of the Daly City council and the Jefferson Elementary School district Board of Trustees put their heads together Monday night at an informal dinner meeting at Toto's restaurant to hash out problems of mutual interest in the proposed Christen Ranch development.

They wound up taking preliminary steps to work out a joint master plan for development and use of school properties for recreational use throughout the entire city.

The recreation plan and the Christen Ranch land uses were just two of a myriad of subjects, ranging from taxes to the weather, discussed by the two groups and their administrators.

The council told school officials it would definitely hold the Christen developers to the land uses they have proposed in their original presentation to the city council last month.

The school officials expressed concern over any change that would affect the expected school population in the area.

"Land use change is the thing that could kill us," School Superintendent Richard Foster said.

City Attorney Paul Hupf explained that the Christen development would come into the city under a new zoning ordinance that would automatically establish zones as proposed in the land use map submitted to the city.

The developers have proposed that commercial and high rise apartments with a high assessed valuation be located in the Jefferson district, north of Hickey boulevard extension.

Single family homes and apartments would be located in the South San Francisco School district.

The idea for a master plan for recreation came during a discussion of the city's commitment from the developer to provide two acres at every school site for recreation.

The city's original intent was to possibly use this acreage in conjunction with school land for such things as baseball diamonds. Westlake Park, adjacent to the Fernando Rivera school, was given as an example of this type of planning.

The ratio of two acres per school site, however, does not have to be a fixed ratio, Mayor Joseph Verducci said.

"We could use one acre at one school and three acres at another," he explained.

A need for a facility for indoor sports was expressed by several officials.

Verducci said night school enrollments at Westmoor and Jefferson High schools have been increasing in recent years and the recreation department's use of the two school gymnasiums has become more and more limited.

A shorter work week is another thing to consider, he said. Residents will have more need for recreational facilities.

Councilman Bob St. Clair said the age bracket of children in Daly City will present a tremendous problem in years to come and the city will have to face it.

The school district and the city have a joint use agreement in effect at the present time. About 18 elementary schools are used by th recreation department during after school hours and weekends.

The proposed joint master plan for recreation would include improvement of some of the school sites for better recreational use, officials indicated.

In addition to providing recreational facilities in the Christen area, the joint master plan for recreation would include improvement of some of the school sites for better recreational use.

Both city and school officials directed their administrative staffs to begin working out the details of the agreement for consideration at a joint public meeting on the subject later.

Representing the city at the meeting were Verducci, councilmen St. Clair, Francis Pacelli, Michael DeBernardi and Edward Dennis, City Manager Edward Frank and Hupf.

From the school district were Thomas Noonan, chairman of the board of trustees and trustees Donald Calvert and Joseph Lewkowitz, and Superintendent Foster.

Abandoned Boys' Parents Seized

The parents of two infant boys abandoned in Daly City last week will be arraigned at 10 Friday morning in North District Municipal court in South San Francisco on child abandonment charges.

The parents, John Clifton, 27, and his wife, 22, were arrested in Oceanside early Friday morning.

The couple appeared in North Municipal District court yesterday before Judge Charles Becker, who appointed Xenonphon Tratoutsis a South San Francisco attorney, to represent them.

A plea to the child abandonment charges is expected to be entered Friday.

The two boys, Jimmy, 2, and Tommy, about two months old, were found early last Tuesday morning in the lobby of the Palace Court Apartments at 355 Southgate avenue.

They were well dressed and after an examination later by doctors, were found to be in good health.

The younger infant was asleep in a plastic baby carrier. His brother was seated next to him.

The parents were traced through a Post-Times photograph of the boys, taken at County General hospital.

Associated Press carried the photograph on its national wires.

In Vancouver, the boys' grandmother, Marie Kautz, recognized the youngsters from the photo, published in a newspaper there, and contacted Vancouver authorities who in turn notified Daly City investigators.

Daly City authorities then informed the bureau of criminal in-

Bus Passes To Be Given

Starting this week, Jefferson Westmoor and Terra Nova High school students who live more than two miles from school will need a pass to board school buses.

The passes are being issued, according to a school official, to prevent students who live short of the two-mile minimum from walking to the nearest school bus stop and boarding there.

2 SITES MULLED

DC Civic Center To Be Built on Sullivan Street

Daly City Council members Monday night eliminated one site and announced the location of two remaining sites under consideration for the city's long-awaited civic center complex.

In a special study session, the council decided to eliminate a site on Mission street off Parkview avenue because of cost factors, the number of homes involved and a lack of room to expand.

At the same time, the council decided to announce the two remaining sites under serious consideration. The sites are both on Sullivan street, one at 87th and the other at 90th street.

Before making a final decision, the council wants city departments to make a thorough study of future expansion plans to see exactly how much land is needed and which of the two parcels would give the city the most for its money.

One of the two sites is larger than the other.

The cost difference per acre between the two parcels is comparatively small, council members said.

The cost per acre of the Mission street site, opposite the War Memorial Community center, is several thousand dollars higher because of grading problems, size restriction and construction of a large retaining wall.

Several homes in the area would have to be demolished, disrupting many families, the council said.

The two Sullivan street sites are on land which is relatively undeveloped.

Hearing on Billboards Is Planned

To explore public opinion on freeway landscaping versus billboards, Pacifica's sign ordinance committee is planning a public hearing for November 7.

Chairman Chris Bonner said businessmen and representatives of all organizations in the city will be nivited to express their opinions on whether the city should accept state funds for landscaping.

The state will landscape Pacifica's new coastal Cabrillo freeway without cost to the city, providing regulations prohibiting off-premise business advertising are observed.

Bonner said that so far, most of the sentiment expressed before the committee seems to be in favor of landscaping. The Pacific Chamber of Commerce appears to be the principal group in favor of advertising, Bonner noted, and its position is not clear.

At the committee's last meeting, Lyle Planje, one of the chamber directors, said the chamber would adopt a resolution stating its position, after surveying its members.

Planje said he personally believed that the merchants wanted freeway beautification and only wanted signs where there would be no landscaping.

He said that possibly only certain sections of the freeway would be landscaped and that off-premise signs would be permitted in other sections.

Planje said this week he thought that if off-premise signs were totally prohibited by the state, the merchants would go along with landscaping plans.

The committee members were scheduled to meet yesterday in San Francisco with officials of the State Division of Highways. Bonner said the state has begun a preliminary study of landscaping the Cabrillo freeway.

Coast Plans CD Exercise

On a Friday this month, Pacifica civil defense volunteers will stage a major disaster drill.

The type of drill and the time are being kept secret from city administrators and police and fire departments in order to test the reaction of city crews to a surprise drill.

Paul Rushing, Pacifica disaster chief, said that details of the drill are known only to five civil defense volunteers, appointed by the local CD council.

They are: Paul Hansen, Robert Fizer, Robert Vreeland, Mrs. Dor-

FOR MARY'S HELP

Tomorrow Is Big Day in Pacifica

Tomorrow is the big day in Pacifica for the Mary's Help hospital fund drive. Leading citizens have massed a corps of volunteers to canvass every home and collect a hoped-for total of $75,000 in pledges, or approximately $10 per home.

All door-to-door solicitors will wear identification badges. Residents who are not contacted are urged to call drive headquarters at City Hall up to 11 p.m. tomorrow night. A volunteer will be sent for the contribution.

Mary's Help hospital is being built off Junipero Serra boulevard in Daly City. It will provide the north county area with its first general hospital. It will be open to all patients and doctors. The hospital will be administered by the Daughters of Charity.

Chairman of the Pacifica drive is Councilwoman Jean Fassler, assisted by Mayor Harold Feyge and Mrs. William Drake of the hospital campaign committee.

The entire crew of the Linda Mar post office will move to the Pacific Manor building and the two postal workers at Sharp Park will move to Linda Mar to keep the substation open there.

BRUNO OUTFLANKED

Westboro Bid Is Underway

The race between South San Francisco and San Bruno to annex the giant Westborough area seemed all but over today after South San Francisco city councilmen sprinted far ahead by introducing an annexation ordinance Monday night.

The only protests came from Dave Ratto, long time downtown real estate broker and civic leader, and Councilman Emilio Cortesi, who announced his opposition by voting against a series of resolutions and introduction of the annexation ordinance.

Although the ordinance will serve to bring into the city only the undeveloped sections of the tract, little doubt was left that the entire subdivision eventually will become part of South San Francisco when Ray Vetterlein, president of the Westborough Homeowners Improvement association, announced, "We want to be part of one city, and we want that city to be South San Francisco."

It appeared today that the only thing that could possibly upset South San Francisco's applecart would be a referendum movement by supporters of Ratto and Cortesi, who successfully fought a previous effort to bring the area extending to Skyline boulevard into the city. It was then known as Callan Park.

City Attorney John Noonan explained that Monday night's action was being taken under a state majority protest act and only property owners in the area to be annexed could protest in an official public hearing.

Mayor Patrick E. Ahern later opened the crowded meeting to the audience, and Ratto read a lengthy public statement in which he asserted 2000 South San Francisco voters had signed a referendum petition when annexation proceedings were begun in April, 1961.

Now, Ratto charged, the council is reversing the previous proceedings by instituting annexation proceedings itself whereas the developer had begun the previous annexation attempt.

"You are assuming the roll of a dictator," Ratto asserted. "You do not own the city in fee simple."

Ratto charged that by annexing the area the administrative costs of the city would rise, while "the developer will benefit by $3-million without removing one shovelful of earth."

The long time civic leader claimed a $22,000,000 shopping center proposed for the Westborough area was nothing more than "a red herring to drag in front of the city." He cited the diffi-

Ocean Tide Brings in Narcotics

An ocean tide, carrying 123 vials of Methedrine and a number of other unidentified drugs, swept in over four miles of Daly City beach Sunday.

Investigators theorized the narcotics had been dumped at sea by peddlers seeking to avoid arrest or by thieves who had unknowingly obtained the drugs in a burglary.

At first, it was believed the narcotics might be the flotsam of a $1.3-million load of confiscated drugs that Federal agents had dumped into the Pacific near the Farallone islands last Wednesday.

However, Matthew O'Conner, supervising agent for the State Bureau of Narcotics, flatly denied that any of the tide-borne narcotics could have come from the Student Wins Grid Contest

A 19-year-old sophomore at San Jose State college is this week's big winner in the Post-Times football contest.

Gary Peterson of 231 Barclay avenue, Millbrae, correctly picked all fifteen games in the contest and estimated the 49ers would gain 160 yards. The 49ers gained 61 yards.

For winning, Gary will receive $150 prize money plus $50 bonus for being a home-delivered subscriber to The Times.

The Tug-of-War Is Waning

That tug-of-war between Daly City and Brisbane over the Bayshore Fire district appears to be over.

Paul Hupf, Daly City's attorney, said Brisbane has decided to permit the dissolution of the district to proceed as originally planned rather than press a court suit against the move.

A hearing had been scheduled for today in superior court in Redwood City on a temporary restraining order issued August 19, halting the dissolution.

However, Hupf said Brisbane would file a stipulation that, in effect, would allow the dissolution to become effective Monday. Such a stipulation would negate the need for a hearing.

Residents of the fire district had voted in favor of dissolution to allow the Bayshore Fire department to become a part of the Daly City Fire department after annexation of Bayshore to the city.

After the vote, however, Brisbane announced it had no means of providing fire protection for a portion of the city included in the fire district.

Also involved, Brisbane claimed, were unexpended cash assets, about $40,000 of which had been raised through taxation of Brisbane residents.

Hupf said that Brisbane, by blocking dissolution, stood to lose this cash.

He explained that without dissolution, the district would be forced to continue to operate and would pay out the cash for salaries and operational costs.

"The economy of the amalgamation of the Bayshore department with Daly City would be lost," he observed.

With dissolution given a green light, Brisbane will be entitled to a share of the Bayshore district's total unexpended monies, Hupf said.

He added, however, that Daly City will oppose any move by Brisbane to obtain a share of the district's physical assets, such as equipment, in addition to the cash.

Exactly how the unexpended monies will be divided will be determined later, Hupf said.

Christen Hearing Is Monday

Daly City's proposal to annex the 16-acre former Christen Dairy Ranch will be aired at a public hearing at 8 Monday night in City Hall.

The annexation would be the largest addition of land to the city since Westlake came into the municipal fold in 1949.

Present at the hearing will be representatives of the Suburban Realty company, which has drawn up a program for the complete development of the Christen area.

The program has been prepared in consultation with Daly City officials.

WESTLAKE STORES OPEN WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS

IN LAND USE STUDY

A Blueprint for Coast Predicted

"A blueprint for Pacifica's future" may come out of a crash study program begun last week by the city's new land use committee, according to chairman and City Councilman George Mason.

The committee was recently appointed by City Council to examine problems of attracting industry to Pacifica.

The move followed statements made to the council that the city will always remain a bedroom community because of a lack of access for manufacturers to suppliers and markets.

Mason says the committee will try to decide whether light industry can still be a practical goal for Pacifica and what the prospects are for the development of commerce.

Members also want to look into such far-ranging problems as the possibilities for commercial recreation and Pacifica's pattern of single-family residential development and its effect on the tax rate.

Possible new directions for multi-family housing will be studied, such as high-rise apartments and a change in the present trend toward so-called garden apartments.

The committee has asked the city staff for more complete data on exactly how much undeveloped land is in the city and what large-scale zonings have been requested and granted but not developed.

In studying the possibilities of commercial recreational development, the committee proposes to look into the potential of Pacifica's beach frontage and what might be done to develop a breakwater and small boat harbor, members say. Next meeting of the committee is planned for tomorrow evening.

Appointed last week to represent the Laguna Salada School board on the committee was Rod Dailey. Other committee members include:

City Manager Karl Baldwin, Don McManus, Planning commission; John McCoy, Park, Beach, and Recreation commission, and Lyle Planje, Pacifica Chamber of Commerce.

City planning consultant Ed Robinson is assisting the committee.

Subdivider Objects to City Order

A Pacifica subdivider is objecting to what he calls city pressures to make him shore up a creek bank adjoining property now under development.

Victor Magrin says he has been told to install riplap at a cost of $4387 on San Pedro Creek, near Magrin Park, west of Peralta drive.

Magrin, who said he was having the work done under protest, claims the work is not required by law.

In a letter to the City Council, he stated that the city is responsible for the maintenance of the creek bank and that erosion problems in the area existed before the subdivision.

Back on the City Council agenda this evening is a proposal, defeated 2-2 at last council meeting, for a resolution that would bar city support to organizations not having non-racial discrimination clauses in their by-laws.

Observers say Councilwoman Jean Fassler and Councilman George Mason, who voted against the proposal, have been the target of heavy criticism for their opposition to the ban.

There will be a report from the Pacifica city attorney tonight on the proposed real estate sign ordinance and a report from the city engineer on the inclusion of Copeland street in the Oddstad way assessment district.

Recommendations from the Personnel Board, calling for revisions in city clerical positions with upgrading of personnel at a total cost of $1404 per year will be presented.

The Pacific Planning commission is asking the City Council to consider street improvements on Hilton way and Hilton lane in Sharp Park.

The council will be asked to confirm the appointment by the San Mateo disaster council of City Manager Karl Baldwin to its advisory committee.

F. J. DeLARIOS
Named by Governor

De Larios Appointed Muni Judge

South San Francisco Attorney F. Jose de Larios, 44, was named a municipal judge in the northern judicial district of San Mateo county last week by Governor Brown.

De Larios is a Democrat. His wife, Edna, is vice principal and dean of girls at South San Francisco High school.

The appointment brings the total number of judges to seven in the three county judicial districts and follows closely the appointment of Judge Melvin E. Cohn of San Carlos, former San Carlos city attorney, who will be sworn in Oct. 10.

De Larios is president of the South San Francisco Democratic treasurer of the North San Mateo County Bar association and a member of the bar of the supreme court of the United States and the Federal and California bars.

He and his family live at 355 Erica drive, South San Francisco.

The appointment of de Larios means that the north county will have a second judge in its municipal district for the first time.

Judge Charles Becker has been the north county's jurist for the past four years.

An additional judge for the north district had been recommended by the Bar association and the legislature provided for the new post in its session this year.

The city has received a donation of a ton of first aid supplies for use in drills from L. A. Mackey of Rockaway Beach, Pacifica Civil Defense council members learned at their meeting last week.

Two tons of supplies for the city's field hospital unit at Oddstad Park have been received from the state CD organization and 28 cubic feet of refrigerated medical supplies for the hospital were due to arrive yesterday.

Dr. David Brown, Pacifica civil defense medical director, Mrs. Anderson, Howard Hoops, Red Cross director and Rushing met last Saturday to inspect the supplies.

The city still is negotiating with the federal government for lease of the old World War II coastal bunker site off Sharp Park road for use as a disaster base, it was announced at last week's CD council meeting.

N. COUNTY SCHOOLS

Vote to Unify Delayed Again

An anticipated population explosion and a move by the South San Francisco school district to shed some residential area in the Christen ranch development combined last week to postpone a vote on unification of five north school districts for another three months.

The San Mateo county committee of school reorganization, augmented by the elementary school district of Jefferson, Bayshore, Laguna Salada, and Brisbane and the Jefferson union high school district met at the Westmoore High school library.

The committee decided to meet January 9 for the eighth time to take a final and binding vote before submitting to the state board of education a plan to unify the five districts into one single administrative unit.

The postponement was agreed upon to allow the committee to gather information on estimated population growth in the north county—and in the proposed developments of the Christen and Crocker lands.

Some of the school board trustees felt population increase in the two major land developments would increase the student population over the accepted criteria for "a good unified" district.

The committee's original criteria said a unified district should not exceed 50,000 students.

Thomas Noonan, chairman of the Jefferson elementary school district, said the estimated population of the Christen ranch is 21,000 persons of which 5000 would be children.

He said the Crocker lands comprise approximately 4000 acres, most of which would undoubtedly be residential and high rise apartments.

Al Rigler of the Brisbane school district, said that 300 homes are under construction in Brisbane and plans for 1500 apartments are on the drawing board.

"These homes will give us four times as many students as we have now," he said.

The school board trustees also criticized the move by South San Francisco to get rid of the residential properties in the Christen ranch.

Most of the homes of the $150-million development are in the southern part of the Christen ranch in South San Francisco's district.

Noonan argued that the committee should not set up a unification plan until the problem is settled.

The county committee will act on the proposed boundary change but it is only a recommending body to the board of supervisors.

In other action the county committee received a petition against its unification plan signed by 900 residents mostly from the Jefferson elementary school district.

1-Way Plan Is Proposed In Pacifica

A plan to make most cross streets in the western Sharp Park area one-way, to widen Palmetto avenue and to develop additional off-street parking for future business development won tentative approval from Pacifica city councilmen and planning commissioners at a joint study meeting last week.

Two alternate proposals, one calling for the setting up of a parking assessment district and the other which would require merchants to pay for off-street parking, were rejected on the grounds the area has insufficient assessed valuation to finance such programs.

All three plans were presented to officials by Edward Robinson, city planning consultant.

Under the plan accepted, all cross-streets, except Paloma avenue and Clarendon drive, both of which will cross the new Coast freeway, will be made one way in alternate directions.

Diagonal parking will be placed on all streets except the new major cross streets and Palmetto avenue and Ocean boulevard, which will be kept as full width major city streets with parallel parking.

It was agreed that when the city widens Palmetto avenue it will credit property owners for land taken for the street widening for future parking assessments.

City Manager Karl A. Baldwin was instructed to prepare a plan for implementing the program for presentation to councilmen, who will schedule a series of public hearings.

All three proposals have been under review by planning commissioners for some time.

Both municipal bodies failed to get to a scheduled review of a proposed new zoning ordinance, but agreed to set up a future joint study meeting.

seized dope that had been sunk at sea.

He explained that none of the vials washed up along Thornton Beach bore the identifying marks that state chemists use in preparing the vials for introduction as evidence at narcotics trails.

Most of the vials that washed ashore were full and ready for use, investigators said.

The first discovery was made by a San Francisco family who reported their find to Fred B. Meyer, attendant at the state park station at Thornton Beach.

Meyer notified authorities and Daly City police, both regular and auxiliary, and narcotics agents rushed to the scene.

Together with regular beach visitors, they gathered up the vials and bottles.

Monday, agents and Daly City police patrolled the beach again to gather up any additional bottles that may have washed ashore.

culty of developing access roads to the area and asked if the city will have to purchase sites for new fire stations and police facilities as well as floating a new bond issue to pay for expansion of the city's sewage treatment plant.

Ratto claimed if the city had kept within its original city boundaries years ago, "we would now be one of the most prosperous communities in the state."

Vetterlein claimed, however, that the 500 homes already constructed in Westborough have an average assessed valuation of $7000 and would add more than $30,000,000 in assessed valuation to the city. He was greeted by applause by a large delegation of Westborough residents.

Boys' Parents Are Arrested

vestigation (CII) in Sacramento that the identity of the boys' parents had been determined.

The parents were arrested in Oceanside after police there charged them with siphoning gas from an auto.

When the police ran a routine check on the parents with CII in Sacramento, they learned that the couple were wanted by Daly City police on child abandonment charges.

Investigators said the father is wanted by Oregon authorities for violation of parole.

Police said he has a long record and had been on parole from a prison sentence for second degree burglary.

The couple told investigators they had abandoned their children because they had no money and could not properly care for or feed the boys.

Their money, they said, had run out after they had left Port Angeles, Wash., to seek better work. Clifton gave his occupation as a logger.

San Mateo county probation authorities said the two boys are now legally detained.

A juvenile court hearing, scheduled for October 21, will determine whether they will be declared dependant children of the court.

If they are, a year's waiting period would be observed before they could be adopted.

Select Charter Flight Carefully

By LORENE BEASLEY
Editor, Better Business Bureau "Barometer"

The business of all travel agencies has been affected by a few irresponsible operators of charter flights and get rich quick promotoors whose only interest is in collecting the deposits from the people who sign up for a bargain rate charter flight.

Flights involving hundreds of people were grounded recently in New York resulting in travelers being defrauded, their vacations spoiled and in some cases, being stranded miles from their homes.

The Civil Aeronautics Board's regulation prohibits public solicitation for charter flights. A company or an organized social group, at least six months old, may contract for a flight with an authorized common carrier by paying for it or defraying the costs among its members. If a travel agency brings a miscellaneous group together and charters a flight, the flight may be grounded.

Unless each individual has been a member of a group for six months before its charter is announced, the charter will not be legal. If the charter flight is not legal, the group cannot qualify for operation of the plane holding authority to make the flight. If you are scheduled on an unauthorized plane that might not get off the ground your chances are great to be left holding your bags, if not at New York airport at some foreign airport where you expect to find your return flight waiting.

The Better Business Bureau advises you to:

1. Check with it regarding the reliability of your travel agent.
2. Not book on a charter flight open to the public.
3. Use commercial flights unless you are a bona fide member of a chartering group.

A BRAND NEW citizen of a brand new community is in the forefront of the Pacifica fund-raising drive for Mary's Help hospital.

Mrs. Fred Stearns, whose family was the twelfth or thirteenth to move into Henry Doelger's new Fairmont subdivision just south of Westlake Terrace, has volunteered to organize the drive among her 150 or so neighbors.

If many of the new Fairmont citizens are as public-spirited as Mrs. Stearns, Pacifica will indeed be fortunate.

The Stearns family moved into their new home at 210 Springdale drive at the end of June.

Already Mrs. Stearns has become one of the first area chairman appointed for the Pacifica Mary's Help drive. she also has become a volunteer librarian for Cabrillo school, with her family joined Bethlehem Lutheran church and has signed up for an evening course in tailoring and clothing construction.

The Stearns moved to Pacifica from Phoenix when the father was appointed western regional administrator for the computer division of General Electric corporation.

Natives of Massachusetts, Mr. and Mrs. Stearns had lived in Phoenix for the past 14 years.

Their four boys, Clark, 11, Robert, 9, and twins Karl and Kenneth, 8, are attending Cabrillo school.

MRS. FRED STEARNS
Fairmont Volunteer

AFTER A search of the Bay Area for a place to live, it was the fog that attracted the Stearns to Fairmont.

"I have four children who are allergic to pollen and the doctor advised us to move as close to the sea breezes as we could get," says Marjorie Stearns.

It's been wonderful, this is the first summer the youngsters have not been sick all summer with bronchial infections."

Mrs. Stearns, who first became interested in the Mary's Help campaign after reading a newspaper article, says she can appreciate the need to have a general hospital close at hand.

"I have had many occasions myself to rush children with concussions or broken noses to the hospital," she says.

One of her twins became ill at six weeks of age and had to be rushed by police-escorted ambulance to the hospital with a temperature of 107 degrees.

"Another few minutes, and he would have died, we were told," she remembers.

Mrs. Stearns is optimistic about her Fairmont neighbors' response to the Mary's Help appeal, which is scheduled tomorrow as part of a city-wide house-to-house solicitation.

"People here are so neighborly and willing to help out in emergencies," she says.

Assisting Mrs. Stearns with the drive in Fairmont will be Mrs. Betty Galli, Mrs. Marilyn Silverthorn, Mrs. Polly O'Connor, Mrs. Emily Petrakis and Mrs. Mary Dutra.

Mrs. Stearns also has signed up her husband to work on the solicitation and has received her first voluntary contributions, 50 cents each, from her two oldest sons.

Rattlesnakes Killed in S.S.F.

For the first time in the memory of South San Francisco police, three diamond-back rattlesnakes were killed within the city limits Saturday.

Officers this morning reported that Vern William Collins, 77, an engineer of 433 Blondin way in the County Club Park area killed the three snakes. Two of the snakes, each 18 inches long, were discovered in the street near his home, while the third, 36 inches long, was found in the grass near Alida way west of the Ponderosa school.

Budapest Citizens To See Movie About S.S.F.

The citizens of Budapest, Hungary will soon be watching a 51-minute sound film on the city of South San Francisco.

Plans also call for the state department to send the film to Berlin and perhaps Tokyo to show a typical American industrial city at work and play.

The film, called "South San Francisco, Industrial City," was previewed last week by the city council, city school board and civic leaders. South San Franciscans will get a chance to view the film at local theatres soon.

The pixture opens with historic shots of the old Miller and Lux property and then takes up schools, industry, city government, entertainment and recreation.

Spectrum Production of South San Francisco made the film with Lowell C. Emerson as director.

A Cleanup Campaign Is Begun

Residents of a section of the older part of Daly City,aware their neighborhood isn't exactly on the modern side but nonetheless older part of Daly City, aware less convinced it should be neat and tidy, turned to with rakes, brooms and shovels last week.

In a cleanup operation they hoped would spur similar efforts along nearby streets, the residents cleaned out a vacant lot at Santa Cruz avenue and Hillcrest drive.

Mrs. Percy Williams of 13: Santa Cruz, acting as spokesman for the group, commented:

"We don't care where the people live or where they come from —we just want to get our city cleaned up."

Mrs. Williams added she and the volunteers in her group hoped the cleanup campaign would spread quickly to neighboring areas.

The Move Was Costly

A Daly City resident reported to police early Saturday that his auto, filled with clothing, appliances and other personal belongings, all valued at a total of about $6000, had been stolen from in front of his apartment.

John Martin of 151 Eastmoor avenue told investigators he had planned to move Saturday morning and had loaded his car the previous evening with the belongings.

Bates Father Of 2nd Girl

Post-Times staff reporter Ron Bates became the proud papa of his second daughter Sunday morning when six pound, 12-ounce Michelle Arlene made her debut at Peninsula hospital.

Residents At Meeting

Two Daly City residents last week attended the Governor's Traffic Safety conference in Sacramento.

The residents, Robert Terry and Bunny Gillespie, heard Gov. Brown comment that traffic accidents cost Californians $600-million last year and that this sum could have built 850 elementary schools.

During the conference, Terry, a driving instructor in the Richmond school district, expressed his opposition to calling driver education classes as "frill courses."

At a breakfast meeting of the California Driver Education association, he was named acting treasurer of the group.

IT'S SO seldom that this column ever agrees with the experts—or vice versa—that we believe it advisable this week to break all rules of modesty and reprint three agreements just to prove we're not always wrong — like saying that the Giants had the potential to win the pennant by 10 games and that the Dodgers had a better chance for third than for first.

Ralph Houk, a very smart man, recently backed three statements we had made earlier in the year that no other baseball experts particularly dwelled upon.

For one, we have several times written in these columns that the Yankee defense—particularly its infield — was more responsible this year for team success than any other factor. Secondly, we wrote a column deploring the general trend of using just anybody at first base, stating that played in the classic way, the initial sack could be an extremely important position to a team over a season's period.

Finally, we have continually harped on the fact that the enlarged strike zone has gone a long way toward helping young pitchers to big years — a theory that most baseball men have shuttled into the background when speaking of 1963's miraculous pitching surge.

Now Houk, a really great guy, comes along to support our theories. Well, he really doesn't support us personally — in fact, there's a good chance he's never even heard of us or our theories. But here are excerpts from a Houk interview in baseball's Bible, The Sporting News:

"According to Houk, there was one 'big factor' in winning this pennant. The word is defense.

" 'Never before have I been so impressed by defensive play . . . I mean primarily the defense we got out of our infield. It was just this side of being unbelievable . . . .

"I haven't kept track of the games they (the infield) won for us, but I'll bet it was 10 or 12. . .

"We had a good infield last year, too . . . but this one is better and I think Joe Pepitone (Yankee first baseman) has made it that way . . .

". . . he has great range to his right . . . that not only cut down on the hits in that area, but . . . also made a much more efficient second baseman out of Bobby Richardson.

"With Joe able to scoop up grounders so far to his right, Bobby was able to cheat to his right and cut off potential hits up the middle. In doing so, he helped Kubek (Yankee shortstop,, who now didn't have to be so conscious of the middle of the diamond . . . .' "

The article then went on to quote Houk as saying that the new high strike zone definitely had made it a pitcher's league in the American league.

So there. We hope this hasn't sounded like bragging, but credit really should be given a guy when he's right, no matter how seldom it is.

And it seems, nowadays, that if you don't do it yourself, nobody's about to step forward to do it for you.

WARREN "SCOOP" WYNKOP, former Peninsula prep whiz and sometimes sports columnnist himself, is doing promotional work for the San Francisco Warriors.

If any youth group is interested in seeing a Warrior film (a novelty item which shows its heroes losing a game — and how many promotional sports films can make THAT claim), and perhaps, if scheduling is right, meet a player or two, write to Warren at the Warrior office, 505 Geary street, San Francisco. Give the name of your group, the number of boys involved, and let "Scoop" know where he can contact you. It'll be worth your time.

WE COULD be wrong (attention Marv Ison, local baseball historian and statistical expert), but we believe Warren Spahn is the oldest pitcher at 42, ever to win 20 or more games in a season.

Grover Cleveland Alexander won 21 when he was 40. But he's the closest as far as we can determine.

Just think what Spahn would have done if he hadn't missed a half dozen or so starts this year, with a bad arm.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS:

When Floyd Gonella, Terra Nova's 1962 football Coach of the Year, hung up his ulcers this season to become that school's Dean of Boys, we asked him how he felt about being left out of it all for the first time since he was 14.

"I know," he said, measuring his words, "that on Fridays (game days) I'll be relieved to be out of it because that's always the roughest time. But sometimes, when I watch the kids practicing out there, I almost feel like crying."

We hate to let Floyd in on the secret, but his is not an original emotion. Ask any recently retired field-to-desk coach, and he'll tell you the same thing. And mean it, just as Gonella did.

JUST ABOUT every major league scout in the area will be holding his breath until the NPL football season closes.

They don't want Bruce Hix, Westmoor's great quarterback and one of the hottest looking hitting prospects in the Bay Area in years, to mangle any vital parts in a pile-up.

Our suggestion is that if they're really that concerned, they form an alternating pool, don pads, and work up a pocket for Bruce.

COLLEGE COLLECTIONS:

The Jarman Shoe Company is missing a promotional bet if it doesn't pursue the signature of that Oklahoma lineman named Jarman who booted two conversions and a 43 yard field goal to help batter surprised USC into a rare submission. 17-12. Take Jarman's shoes away and it would have ended tied.

It's just too good a gimmick to be true.

And we're glad to hear that our old coach, head Cal baseball man George Wolfman, is now just about recovered from an auto-accident that was nearly fatal for him and his two sons.

Rams Edge Panthers

Hix Paces Westmoor Offensive

By GARRY NIVER

The much heralded defense of the Burlingame High school football team suffered a terrible lapse of memory Friday afternoon.

At the end of the day, the new scoreboard at the north end of the Westmoor High school field cruelly shouted out something which the Panthers won't forget for quite sometime to come —a 28-27 loss at the hands of the Rams.

The Panther defensive unit, which had yielded nary a point in two previous practice encounters, made up for lost time as it let four touchdowns slip through.

The man most responsible for Burlingame's first defeat of the year was Ram quarterback Bruce Hix. As the cold north wind thundered through the sunken field, the "Wonderful Mister H" put on a dazzling show of football.

Hix ran, passed and played tricks with the ballwhich would have made Houdini envious.

The Rams, rebounding from a 26-7 defeat at the hands of Riordan, thus have reinstated themselves in the NPL title picture.

The Panthers scored twice early in the first half and it looked as if the Panther defense was going to get another shut-out.

Sophomore sensation George Lobdell aroused the first cheer from the Panther ranks when he spun into the end zone from 10 yards out with 3:40 left in the first period. John Strange kicked the extra-point to give the Panthers a 7-0 lead. Minutes later, little Rich Hiskins scored the second Panther TD with a five-yard plunge.

The first indication of what was to come happened with 4:13 left in the first half when Hix broke loose for a 48-yard scoring scamper. Fullback Dave Mahoney ran the ball over for the PAT, making it 13-7.

The Rams turned on their scoring machine of Hix and Mallinger in the third period when they struck twice. Hix found Mallinger the first time with one from the nine and the second from the three yeard line.

Following the latter td, Hix boot-legged the ball around left end and completely baffled the Panthers, scoring the important PAT unmolested.

The Panthers then took the ball on their 20-yard line and marched methodically up field to the Ram three. Here, on a fourth and one-foot situation, the Westmoor defense tightened up and held for a crucial play on the three-yard line.

However, the Panther defense, which acts like the two-point safety rule was patented just for it, crashed through and scored its third safety in as many games.

Now trailing, 21-15, the Panther gridders became aroused.

Three plays later, Lobdell shot off-tackle and scooted 25 yards into the end zone to tie the score. Now there was complete bedlam on the Panther bench as they sensed the smell of victory.

On Westmoor's fourth play from scrimmage, following the kick-off, Hix' pass was stolen out of the hands of a Westmoor receiver by Pete Essner, and the speedy defensive swept by tacklers for 36 yards into the end zone for the score—giving Burlingame a 27-21 lead with just 5:52 remaining.

With two minutes on the clock, the Rams discovered themselves on the Burlingame 21 yard line in a fourth and one-yard situation. Hix handed off to fullback Dave Mahoney and the Ram work horse came up with the crucial first down.

Breaks Help Warrior Win

By CRAIG BECKHEYER

Breaks, one of the biggest factors in any athletic contest, and determination under pressure, an equally decisive element, played a big part in the going on at Burlingame's football field last night.

South San Francisco's gutty Warriors, getting more than their share of the breaks early in the game but coming on with heads-up play in the clutch, held on through a dramatic fourth period to defeat Capuchino 12-7.

On the final play of the game, with South City fighting to preserve its five-point lead, Jerry Richards hit Frank Kurpinsky with a 13-yard pass-run play that looked to be the winning touchdown.

Warrior San Pretari, however, boomed the goal bound Mustang loose from the ball on the one and fell on the sphere to give South City possession with seconds remaining and clinch the Warriors second win in three games.

Capuchino's defense, a unit that had not been scored on previous to this one, saw the breaks go against them twice for 12 points Friday night.

Mid-way through the second period the winners moved from their own 36 to the Steed's 19 in eight plays, the biggest of which being a 20-yard pass play from Larry Cervelli to Greg Jones. The drive appeared to be stopped when the Warriors missed the first down in four plays but a personal foul penalty after the whistle gave the visitors a wave-on from the 10.

On the next play another off-play personal foul was called and South City had a first and goal from the five. Two plays later Art Gutierrez knifed in from the four and it was 6-0.

SECOND VICTORY

Colts Surprise Oakland, 12-7

El Camino high school's varsity football squad seeks bigger and better things Friday night when they tangle with the Mid-Peninsula league's Hillsdale Knights in their final pre-season outing.

El Camino startled visiting Oakland Tech Friday night by staging strong ground assaults that never subsided until the final gun went off.

The Colts found their mark late in the first quarter when middle linebacker Mike Lenaers pounced on a loose Oakland pigskin at the one yard stripe. Fullback Walt Harris banged across the goal line on the next play with 3:26 remaining in the first stanza. Mike Tyler's point after run was thwarted.

The Old Mission Road dwellers recorded their final paydirt march late in the first half after taking possession of the ball at Oakland's 40-yard marker.

With Tyler under center, E Camino advanced the ball dow to the three-yard line in six play Harris culminated the drive on three-yard plunge with 10 se onds remaining in the first ha Gary Swedberg was stopped sho of the goal line on the point aft try.

A hard-nosed defensive un spearheaded by John Batbie, E nie Tressitte, Lenaers, and Ja Glover, stymied the east bay la throughout the first half. Th defense and a large array of pe alties proved to be Oakland downfall.

SEA BOWL

I WILL cut the idle chatter this time as there are many leagues to cover and I will try to include as many as possible.

The Sea Bowl Classic league really brought the house down last Friday night with some fantastic games and series. Bob Peterson got the show on the road with a 254-633 for high series. Don Alvis rolled the high game of 266. Joe Vital, 254. Don Meadows, 221. Bob Wilson, 221. Steve Marshall, 216. Chuck Reynolds, 212. Gil Thielan, 212. Al Johnsen, 207. Gil Romano, 209. John Alameda, 210.

Kings and Queens: 194-576 which gave Don Ellefson the high series. High game went to Orv Le Noue who rolled a 214. Pacifica Federated Women: Marty Parker (sub.) came up with the high game and series with a 164-450. Fran Lawrence, 154-437. Doris Saling, 162-430. Wisby Realty Team had the high series for the day of 1634.

Neptune's Daughters: Pacifica Plaza Furniture team came up with the high team game of 634 and high team series of 1802. Lynn Bright had the high individual game and series with a 207-521. The 5-10 split was picked up by Marge Hahn.

MONDAY YAWNERS: High series of 156-443 honors go to Bet Randall and high individual game to Jeannie Linder who bowled a 177. Jeanine Frylock scooped up the first turkey and Shirley Cole the second. Mixed Masters: Lloyd Squires bowled an all-spare game in his second and this put him in top place for series with a 187-538. High game of 205 went to Mondo Palesi. Tavern: 805. Roland Lewis bowled a 235-244-202 which adds up to 681, for high series.

Clyde Reinhardt had the high individual game of 250. Stardusters: A big 210-550 high game and series went to Marie Pierce. Other big games were: 187, Clara Meadows. 177, Ida Paddock. 182, Pat Damron.

Alleyholics: High game of 228 went to Jo Ann Wyn. High series of 185-514 went to Paulette Slack. Moonshiners: Marie Von Glahn had the high game and series with a 189-504. Ball and Chain: High series man was Ernie Fox who bowled a 185-528. Ed Terry had the high game of 221. Belles and Beaus: Dick Janson bowled the high game and series for the league with a 225-592.

SERRA BOWL

BIGGEST NEWS this week at Serra is the topflight shooting by gals in evening ladies' and mixed league competition.

In the Tuesday night Majorettes league, Louise Yaquinto blasted a 606 series, which included a towering 280 single game. Unless further research unearths a previous higher tally, this will stand as the highest game ever bowled at Serra by a member of the fairer sex. A miss in the second frame eliminated all possibiltiy of a 300 game but there were still plenty of thrills in store for bowlers and spectators alike watching Louise finish out with a string of ten-in-a-row.

Bev Cronin led the ladies in the Friday night Parkmerced loop with a fine 215-573 effort, which on any other week's bowling would probably have led the distaff division of the scoring roundup.

The Serra men's leagues can also boast of many a high score this week in team play.

Barney Crosby tossed the top total in Automotive league play last Wednesday night, rolling a glittering 633 series, including a terrific 268 middle stanza. This is the second straight week that Barney has been high roller in this loop and his scores keep climbing!

Jim Hore tallied a strong 214-622 series to lead the Padres in a 3-0 sweep over the Santa Marias in Knights of Columbus league play Wednesday night.

Lions league action was highlighted by the sharpshooting of Joe Warren who rolled a classy 211-580 trio that helped his team 16 to a 3-0 win over team 5 this week.

Top spot in Serra's weekly no-tap tourney was captured this week by Marie Ratto with her fancy 717 total. Remember, this is an event for girls only and runs daily from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. with cash payoffs every Friday afternoon.

Other league highlights: Safeway—Gino Calderoni, 203-567; Sunday Cocktail—Don Girdler, 230-528; Foresters—Lee Micheletti, 215-624; St. Francis—Jay Belarde, 225-581, and Metropolitan Mixed—George Dahl, 209-575.

WESTLAKE BOWL

ROSS GUIEB missed the coveted 700 club by one pin as he led the Petersen Point Singles Classic for the week. With 236 in the first game and 242 in his second game, Ross pointed for the 700 mark and rolled an excellent 242 game only to fall one pin short of his goal.

In the same league, Norman Baldelli upheld the honor of the fairer sex as she rolled games of 206, 223, and 181 for 610 total and thus became one of the few female members of the Westlake 600 club

Yvonne McCambridge took high series honors in the Tuesday morning YWCA league as she posted a 449 three game total. High game honors went to Peg Miller for her 159 game.

Bowler of the week in the Native Sons league was Frank LaGrave as he led the pin parade with a big 230 game and 604 series.

As the Men's Automatic Travel league visited Westlake, high series honors went to Vince Wills for his 585 total with a high game of 209.

POLLY AND GIL KANE proved that bowling is a family trait with them. Gil topped the Blue Monday Scratch league with a 207 game and 608 series. Then on Tuesday afternoon, wife Polly led the Tea Timers with a 482 series. Peg McMurtry took high game in the Tea Timers with a 178 total.

Bob Jenkins was the high roller in the Early Fives league as he shot a 203 game and 575 series.

Sunday evening continues to be fun time at Westlake in the Sunday Fun Time. Jackpots carried over from last Sunday night are: First game, $15.90; second game, $13.10; and third game, $23.40. As usual, $1 will be paid for each red headpin strike plus cash prizes for high scores.

Terry LaFlamme rolled a 165 game and a 494 series to to lead the ladies and Neal Corbett topped the men with 198 and 547 in the Southgate Mixed Fives league.

Brightest of the Starliters for the week was Doris Sailus as she led the ladies with a 179 game and 487 series.

Golden Gate Handicap league leader of the week was Vince Rovetti with a 205 game and 546 series.

Tiger Harriers Lose to Rams

Westmoor High school took its first step toward acquisition of the North Peninsula league cross-country title Thursday with a 23-23 victory over Terra Nova.

The Ram runners also won the sophomore and frosh meets. Terra Nova was a 25-34 winner in the JV competition.

Colts Have Same Team, New Coach

By RON BATES

IT'S THE SAME team but a new coach at El Camino High school this year as the Colts enter their second year of varsity competition in the North Peninsula league.

Bob Sexton has taken the same football material that last year's head coach Tom McCormick had and will try to mold a contender out of it. Sexton moved up from line coach when McCormick went to the Minnesota Vikings as assistant coach.

"This is the same team we started off with two years ago in frosh soph competition," Sexton said. "The nucleus of the team is still the same."

The Colts were undefeated in their first year at the Frosh-soph level. Then last year they tied with Jefferson for fourth place.

"We're not a strong team by any means," Sexton said. "We don't have the skill of Westmoor or South San Francisco. We're a small school that hasn't built up its enrollment yet."

However, with the entire first team returning and a total of 20 veterans, the Colts figure to give other teams in the league a struggle.

The Colt's biggest problem seems to be a lack of speed.

"I don't think I have a man on the team that can run the 100-yard dash in less than 11 seconds," Sexton said.

He does, however, have some strong runners in the backfield who are potential all-league candidates.

Fullback Walt Harris, who earned a second team berth in the all-league selectioons last year, is back. So is John LaSota who made honorable mention.

"Harris is running very well, better than last year. LaSota, if he runs up to his potential, should be a strong candidate for all league. He's a hard tough runner and a good competitor."

TO OPEN holes in opposing lines, Sexton has what he believes is a line "superior to other lines in the league."

Key man in the forward wall is the Colts' third all-league candidate — 183-pound guard Ernie Tressetti.

"He has the poise of a good lineman," Sexton said. "We taught him the fundamentals, but he has developed techniques of his own to take out a man. He should be a cinch for all-league."

Tressetti will receive a lot of help from fellow guard Don Morgan and Wayne Catton, a 195-pound tackle who has shown promise.

Dale Abrams will handle the center position and Jay Glover the strong tackle spot. Strong bidders for starting positions are tackles. Gary Santos, Jack Curtice and Mike Bianchini.

At the end slots are Dave Lewis and Mike Jones. The ends are good receivers, Sexton said, but the quarterbacks have not been able to hit consistently yet.

The Colts' best end, Allen Schleup, was hurt earlier this year. Sexton said he also is a good blocker and probably one of the fastest men on the team.

An injury also muffled some of the Colt running attack. Bruce Castalanos, a 205-pound fullback, had showed promise to be the best runner in the backfield but he hurt his knee in the first scrimmage of the year.

IN THE SIGNAL calling slot Sexton has quarterbacks Mike Tyler and Mark Avelar.

"Both men are about equal in ability," Sexton said. "There's only the difference of a flip of the coin who could start."

To help Harris and LaSota in the backfield is halfback Ron Reinig, a converted end from last year. Strong bidders for starting backfield slots are Mike Stauffer and Gary Swedberg.

The Colts will field a two-platoon team if possible, Sexton said. Some of the players who have impressed him on the defensive team are linemen Abrams, Mike Lenaers, John Batbie and Manuel Days.

Sexton tabs last year's champions, Westmoor to repeat for the title.

"They should win it hands down," he said. "But the team that could knock them off is South San Francisco if they continue to play the way they have in practice games."

Sexton is assisted in coaching chores by backfield coach Dough Thomas, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and Illinois university. Harry Pitkoff will assist in the line coaching duties.

THEFT REPORTED

Joseph G. Moitoca of 21 Southdale avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that a cigarette lighter and cash had been stolen from his home. He said his loss was $8.

Oceana Drubbed 41-7 By Leigh of San Jose

The Oceana Sharks last week found that riding the crest of their first winning streak—albeit a streak of one—was too rich an experience to savor for long.

The Sharks found themselves way on the short end of a 41-7 drubbing administered by Leigh High school of San Jose Friday afternoon at Leigh.

Burton Marks paced the winner's offensive with four touchdown runs. Altogether, he rolled up 153 yards on 12 carries. His touchdowns came on runs of 10, 12, 20 and 17 yards.

Oceana mustered its lone tally in the last quarter when Tom Summy dashed 28 yards for six points. John McBride kicked the extra point.

The Longhorns, meanwhile, scored in every quarter. Their other touchdowns were tallied by Ron Caruthers on a short pass and Hal Staats on a 10-yard run.

The 41-7 score was the highest winning score in Leigh's history.

Here is the scoring summary:

Score by Quarters

Oceana	0	0	0	7	7
Leigh	13	7	14	7	41

Scoring: Oceana—Summy, 26 yd. run, McBride PAT kick. Leigh: Marks, TD runs of 10, 12, 20 and 17; Caruthers, 2-yard pass from Osterland; Staats, 10 yd. run; PATS—Marks, 2 runs; Pyrell, pass from Osterand and Osterand, run.

PURSES STOLEN

Selma M. Seay and Nora E. McGee of 101 Westlake avenue reported to Daly City police last week that a thief, posing as a utility company repairman, had stolen their purses from a bedroom.

Terra Nova Overwhelmed

Terra Nova High school suffered the most lop-sided defeat of its football history Friday in a 53-0 rout by Mt. Eden in a non-league game.

The Tigers' deepest penetration was a recovered fumble on the victor's 25-yard line.

Jefferson Is Whipped By Polytechnic, 32-14

McGrath, sheltering a feeling of dismay after his charges' 32-14 loss to Polytechnic High school Friday afternoon, sees little reason why Saturday's journey to South Tahoe should be considered a gamble.

Friday Poly took over on the Tribe's 21-yard line following a bad punt and immediately knocked at the door. Two plays later, halfback Calvin Booth sprinted off guard for 15 yards and the score.

The Parrots of San Francisco struck twice within minutes of the first counter when fullback Dennis Sullivan raced 41 yards on a sweep for the touchdown and Tom Corbett hit Willie Hangston with a screen pass at the 25-yard stripe and he carried it in from there on a 25-yard jaunt down the right sidelines.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

WITH THE advent of cake mixes in our lives, all homemakers became homebakers and the oven hasn't had a good rest since. It's such an easy matter to toss together a cake when you just have to follow the simple directions on the box. Some of the more enterprising bakers have made improvements and figured out ways and means to "gussie up" the mixes and the results are sometimes spectacular.

Just such results were gained by the person or persons who dreamed up this lemon cake we are offering today. I don't know whether it was developed in one of the large testing kitchens of some of the major baking companies or whether some gal just decided to do something different as she mixed up a cake in her own kitchen. However it came about, it's delightful and I heartily recommend it to you good cooks.

Mrs. Loretto Booth of 2286 Seventeenth avenue, San Francisco, gave me this recipe and I offered it here first about a year ago. Recently, I've had some requests to reprint it and here it is.

LEMON JELLO CAKE

1 package pineapple or yellow cake mix
4 eggs
three-fourths cup water
three-fourths cup cooking oil
1 package lemon Jell-o

Place all ingredients in a large mixing bowl. Beat 2 minutes at medium speed in mixer. Pour into well-greased 9 by 13 pan. Bake 30 to 40 minutes in 350-degree oven.

While the cake is baking, mix together:
2 cups (scant) powdered sugar
Juice of 2 lemons

Immediately on taking cake from oven, poke fork holes all through the cake (the more holes, the merrier) and pour the sugar and lemon mixture over the hot cake. The sugar and lemon mixture seeps down through the holes and makes cake moist and lemon-y. Set aside to cool.

CAKE MIXES are a wonderful aid to the busy homemaker but occasionally we all like to whip up a cake from scratch. And along these lines I've had some inquiries about substituting cocoa for chocolate. And here is what the experts say about this:

Chocolate contains more fat than cocoa; so, where cocoa is substituted in a cake, use 3½ tablespoons cocoa and ½ tablespoon butter for each ounce or square of chocolate called for. Either sift cocoa with dry ingredients or mix with just enough milk or water to make a paste and add directly after eggs or egg yolks.

Chocolate is usually melted, and specific directions for adding it are given in the recipes. Avoid overheating chocolate as it tends to curdle. Melt over hot water, keeping the water below the boiling point. Cool before adding to cake mixtures.

Speaking of chocolate, the Brown Stone Front Cake we printed last week was a delightfully chocolaty cake. And the frosting that went over it used hot coffee as the liquid.

FROSTING

1 cup powdered sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 tablespoons hot coffee

Blend together well and pour over cake squares.

SPEAKING OF cakes and do-it-yourself, here are a couple of recipes, one for a cake and one for homemade rolls, that come from a very good cook, Mrs. Amanda Hurst of 61 Baldwin avenue, Daly City. These recipes came to me indirectly from Mrs. Pat Carme that they are delicious.
roll who lives next door to Mrs. Hurst and assures

APPLE CRISP

10 apples (sliced)
three-fourths teaspoon cinnamon
three-fourths cup water
1/3 teaspoon salt
three-fourths cup white sugar three-fourths cup brown sugar
1¼ cups flour
three-fourths cup butter or margarine
½ cup oatmeal

Peel apples, slice as for a pie, place in pan and add water to apples. Work rest of dry ingredients with butter until crumbly and spread on top of apples. Cook in 350-degree oven one hour or until apples are done.

1 yeast cake
Mix in 1 tablespoon sugar (let stand until syrupy)
Melt 1 cube butter or margarine

Pour 1 cup lukewarm milk over butter and pour this combination over yeast mixture.

Beat 2 eggs and add a quarter cup sugar and add to milk mixture.

Add four cups sifted flour with 1 teaspoon salt to combination of liquid ingredients.

Stir and mix well—this will make a thick batter. Cover and put into refrigerator for at least 6 hours. And then remove to make rolls. Shape into the type of roll you wish and place on greased pan. Let stand and rise about three hours and bake. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees, 15 minutes or until brown.

Pacifica AAUW Branch Plans Membership Tea

The Pacifica branch of the American Association of University Women will hold its annual Membership Tea at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The tea will be held at the Castle in Sharp park. All women who are college graduates are eligible for membership in the AAUW.

Mrs. Nancy Finken, president, has extended a special invitation to women who are new in the community.

The guest speaker will be Mrs. Samuel Jackson, president of the Alameda branch of AAUW. There also will be displays to acquaint new members and prospective members with the work of the organization.

New members will have an opportunity to discuss the work of four main areas with the chairmen of these groups: Mrs. Duff Hansen, community problems; Mrs. Jan Sweeney, cultural interests; Mrs. Judy Adams, education chairman, and Mrs. Phyllis Crane, world problems chairman.

Preparations for the tea are under the direction of Mrs. Louise Kukula, first vice president and membership chairman. She is being assisted by a committee composed of Carol Bourell, Katie Haven, Bernice Hill, Julia Jenkins, Kaye Reinhertz, Edith Ricker and Jan Sweeney.

Daly City Family Visits "Caverns"

Mr. and Mrs. Nick J. Santa Maria and their daughter, Sharon, of 587 Wyandotte avenue, Daly City, recently visited the scenic wonders of Dinosaur Caverns.

One of Arizona's major cultural tourist attractions, the caverns are located 25 miles west of Seligman, Ariz., on U.S. Highway 66.

Mater Dolorosa Columbus Day Fete Saturday

The Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Maria will be the central decorations at Mater Dolorosa Parish's Columbus Day dinner-dance to be held Saturday at the South San Francisco Rod and Gun club.

Colorful flags and Italian posters will help to honor the "world traveler," and guests will be treated to a smorgasbord consisting of hot pasta, sliced turkey, beef, and ham, fresh fruit salad soaked in brandy, and assorted relishes, according to committee members.

The cocktail hour from 6:30 to 7:30 will feature hot hors d'oeuvres. Dancing will begin at 9 p.m. to the music of Tony Cavallero.

Mrs. John Artim, 761-2593, and Ed McNab, JU 9-1592, are in charge of dinner-dance reservations at $2.50 per person. Dance only admissions will be available at the door at $2.50 per couple.

YWCA Sets First Fall Social Fete

Preparations for the first YWCA fall season fashion show, scheduled for November 7, began Thursday when more than 50 members attended the annual committee sign-up meeting and fashion model training session, according to Mrs. Robert Washford, fashion show committee chairman.

Mrs. Michael Orlich and Mrs. Edward Odenthal will again serve as model co-ordinators, Mrs. John Kornachrens will be chairman of the decorations and favors committee and Mrs. Albert McGuirk will chair the committee in charge of posters and illustrations.

"The committee leaders met in my home on Monday," Mrs. Washford announced, "and during the committee chairmen's conference it was decided that, while we have a good staff of models and committee workers, we could make use of still more volunteers. We have learned that there is always a need for more half size models and the clerical load on the volunteer typists is greatly reduced if we can obtain a large group of typists.

"We have had inquiries from people who weren't able to attend Thursday's meeting, who think they would like to help but aren't sure they are eligible because they missed the meeting. While we wanted everyone to be on hand for the organizational session, it is not an absolute necessity. We have committees working on art, wardrobe, modelling, decorations, reservations and refreshments, Mrs. Washford concluded.

Women interested in assisting may contact Mrs. Washford at WY 2-0437 for committee assignments.

Moss Beach Church Rites Unite Frankhouse, Froese

Mary Louise Frankhouse became Mrs. Larmie Froese in recent nuptials held at the United Presbyterian church in Moss Beach.

Mary Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frankhouse of Pacifica, chose a floor length bell shaped gown of white organza over taffeta with embroidery on the skirt hem.

Her bouquet was of white carnations with a detachable orchid center.

Maid of honor was Mary Ellen Clemens, attired in a gown of lavender organza. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Contrasting dresses of pink organza were chosen for the bridesmaids, Mrs. Shirley De Meo and Mrs. Barbara Camp.

The bride's mother wore a gold brocade three piece suit with a multi-colored lavender hat. She pinned on a corsage of cymbidum.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Froese and brother to Allan Froese of Oklahoma, Mrs. Waneta Janz of Irvington and Alfea Froese.

For the afternoon ceremonies, Mrs. Froese wore a navy blue and white check dress, complemented by a white orchid corsage.

The Rev. George Clemmons united the couple in marriage. A reception followed at the church social hall. Among guests were: Mrs. Emma Victor of San Diego, Connie and Rafael Moor[illegible].

The ne[illegible] will make their home in San Bruno.

Brownie Troops Merge, Form a New Scout Unit

Brownie Troops 624 and 716 merged into Junior Girl Scout troop 624 after recent "Fly-Up" ceremonies.

The new troop will meet each Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James Ayers, troop leader, 217 Palisades drive.

Members of the newly formed troop are: Patty Ayer, Janice O'Connell, Doris Papelbaum, Frances Petru, Anita Symkowick, Robin Wells, Linda Cane, Christine Caldwell, Sherry Matthews, Vicky Herfield, Anita Orlewsky, Marshia Summers and Kain Wahler.

Mrs. Ayers has asked for support of Girl Scout mothers. Positions open are that of telephone chairman and field trip chairmen. Those interested have been invited to call Mrs. Ayers at WY 2-1775.

Serra Vista P-TA Plans Film Showing

A movie, "Outlaw Stallion," will be shown at Serra Vista school in South San Francisco at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday.

The movie will be shown by the school's P-TA to raise funds for P-TA programs.

The P-TA will meet at 8 p.m. Monday, October 21, at the school. An educator from San Francisco State college will be a guest speaker. Hostesses for the evening will be the mothers of sixth grade students.

'Back to School' At Edison P-TA

It's "Back to School Night" tomorrow at the Thomas Edison P-TA. The meeting starts at 7 p.m. in the school multi-use room.

John Belforte, principal, will introduce his staff of teachers and give a brief explanation of the evening's activities.

After a short business meeting, parents will be invited to meet teachers in their classrooms.

Refreshments will be served in the multi-use room following the class meetings.

Flower Friends To View Slides

The Pacifica Flower Friends Garden club will meet tonight at 8 p.m., at the Moose hall in Vallemar.

Lila Phleg, program chairman, will introdcce Floyd Yarborough, an amateur photographer. He will show his color slides of sea anemones, taken along the San Mateo coastline from Pescadero to Pacifica.

Judge Harris To Discuss Fund Drive

Judge George B. Harris, board chairman of Mary's Help hospital, will discuss the hospital's building fund drive at Monday's meeting of the Westlake Catholic Women.

The monthly meeting will be held at the parish hall of Our Lady of Mercy church immediately following devotions at 8 p.m.

Final plans for the 10th annual "Mercy Ball" October 19 will be reported by Mrs. Frederick Arnke. The dinner-dance will be held at the California Golf club. Bids are $15 per couple and sales are being handled by Mrs. John Grealish and Mrs. Edward Avanzino.

Mrs. Frank Burns, president, has announced these appointments: Mrs. Albert Bucci, United Crusade chairman for the Westlake area; Mrs. Frank Lawson, house parties chairman.

Mrs. Anthony Formosa, hospitality chairman, will be assisted at Monday's meeting by these women: Mrs. Joseph Dovichi, Mrs. Bucci, Mrs. George Chrisman, Mrs? George Comisky, Mrs. William Fritz and Mrs. Richard Jockanich.

Loyola Guild To Sponsor Style Show

Loyola guild will sponsor a luncheon and fashion show Saturday, October 26, in the grand ballroom of the Fairmont hotel.

Mrs. Edward M. Molkenbuhr Jr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Cleary Jr., will head the committee for this affair, which will have as its theme "La Porte d'Or."

Fall and winter fashions from the City of Paris will be modeled by members of the guild. Proceeds from this event will provide scholarships for students of the University of San Francisco and St. Ignatius High school.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Elton A. Kane, DE 3-0874.

P-TA to Tour Oceana High

A tour of the school and an introduction of faculty members will highlight tomorrow's initial meeting of the year for the Oceana High school P-TA.

The session will start at 7:30 p.m. with a one-hour building tour and get-acquainted meeting with school personnel.

A business meeting will convene at 8:30 in the multi-purpose room. Honor students will introduce the faculty.

Refreshments will be provided, under chairmanship of Jan Nielsen.

Square Dance Class Is Open

Registration for a beginners' square dance class will be held this month, according to the 49'ers Square Dance club of South San Francisco.

Classes are held Tuesday evenings from 8 to 10:30 o'clock at the Parkway school in South San Francisco.

Ed Looney is caller and instructor. Those interested in signing up have been invited by club publicity chiarman Mary Denson to call JU 5-8513 after 6 p.m.

Columbus P-TA Seeks Members

The month of October will be open for new members to join and old members to rejoin the Christopher Columbus P-TA. Dues are $1 a year for one parent and $1.50 a year for both parents.

WEDDING BELLS will ring February 29 for Ruth Darlene Thomas and Nicholas Paul Pirolo. The engagement was announced today by the Rev. and Mrs. Floyd W. Thomas of 480 Westmoor avenue, Daly City. The ceremony will be held at Glad Tidings Temple in San Francisco, where the Rev. Thomas is pastor. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Westmoor High school, class of '61, and is now enrolled at San Francisco State college. Her fiance, son of Mrs. Nicholas Pirolo and the late Rev. Nicholas Pirolo of Santa Ana, Calif., is a graduate of Southern California college and is at present studying at San Francisco State college. He is employed by Bethlehem Steel Company.

'Elephant' Auction for B'nai B'rith

Skyline B'nai B'rith women will "trumpet off" their fourth annual "White Elephant auction" Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Lake Merced Sports center on Skyline boulevard.

Coincidental with the auction, the Skyline chapter will hold a birthday party celebrating B'nai B'rith's 120th anniversary.

Mrs. Herman Siskind and Mrs. Karl Keyack are co-chairmen. They pointed out that all funds raised at the auction will be forwarded to the Children's home in Israel.

Hostesses for the evening are: Mrs. Elliott Kamler, Mrs. Jerome Streich, Mrs. Harold Goldman, Mrs. Gerald Turover and Mrs. Edith Human.

Members, friends and guests have been invited to join in the festivities. Transportation may be obtained by calling Mrs. Leo Tinkler, OV 1-4970.

San Brunans at Salinas Confab

More than 500 delegates from the 130 branches of the California state division of the American Association of University Women met in Salinas September 27 and 28 for a workshop on program planning.

Dr. Metta Zahorsky of the San Bruno branch of A.A.U.W. spoke at one of the Saturday sessions on program assistance.

Attending from the San Bruno branch were: Mrs. Orlan Kallevig, president of the local branch; Mrs. Arnold Zahorksy, Mrs. Donald Calvert, Mrs. James Jackson, Mrs. E. A. Seekamp, Mrs. Edward Gulbrandson, Mrs. Arvid Olson, and Mrs. Hugh Mitzner.

Honor 200 Volunteers At Pacifica

The Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department honored its more than 200 volunteer workers Sunday afternoon at the annual Volunteer Appreciation Tea, according to Mrs. Bernard Hyman, chairman of the department's board of commissioners.

Official hostess of the tea, held in the Oddstad Park clubhouse, was commissioner Grace McCarthy, the department's coordinator of volunteer projects. Mrs. McCarty was assisted by Miss Jan Howell, the Pacifica superintendent of recreation.

Special guests attending the gathering were Karl Baldwin, city manager; Al Roberts, city engineer; and councilmen Harold Baldwin, city manager; Al Roberts, city engineer, and councilmen Harold Menshew and Fred Ballew.

Mrs. Anna Eason and Dr. Jerry Miles of the Jefferson Union High School district board of trustees attended the tea, as did Fred Lucas, superintendent of the Laguna Salada Elementary School district, and trustee Rodney Dailey and Dr. Rodney Clark.

The entire board of commissioners were on hand to greet the 75 guests as were Miss Howell, Miss Margaret Carlson, James Pekkain, Eldred Lokker and Louis Starelli of the staff of the recreation department.

According to Mrs. Hyman the department depends on volunteer workers to help with such projects as transporting members of the Fifty Plus club to meetings, policing the swimming areas, renovating the clubhouse in Oddstad Park and preparing materials for the Christmas do-it-yourself show.

Hillside P-TA To End Drive

Hillsdale P-T-A representing Colma K-6 and Colma intermediate schools, will wind up its annual membership drive Monday.

In an effort to recruit 100 per cent parent membership, P-TA envelopes have been sent home with all students, according to membership co-chairmen Bernice Meinzer and Florence Moura.

A prize of $2.50 will be given to the class in each school with the highest percentage of parent membership. An additional prize of $2.50 is being offered to the class attaining the highest percentage of fathers as P-TA members.

AAUW Meet at Pacifica Home

The American Association of University Women will hold its next general meeting tonight at 8 p.m.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Shirley Majchrzek, 451 Manor drive, Pacifica.

Theme for this meeting will be leisure activities. Each member will be given an opportunity to display her hobby. Highlight of the evening will be the musical numbers performed by several members who are accomplished musicians, according to the program chairman.

A HOBBY SHOW that promises some surprises and a lot of interesting exhibits is being held tonight by members of the American Association of University Women, Pacifica branch.

The association women will display their leisure time activities, both in exhibits and demonstrations, as part of the program for the second meeting of the fall season being held in the home of Shirley Majohrazak.

According to Mrs. Gene Collins who has been recording the types of hobbies that will be included in the show, several of the AAUW members have startled everyone with the unusual nature of their leisure time pursuits. For example, Mrs. Edmund Bealy is an enthusiastic skin diver and she has agreed to exhibit all her equipment. Mrs. Dale Emde who creates unusual and graceful ceramic objects during her spare time, will display several pieces from her collection.

Mrs. Morton Levinson will show several of her lovely mosaic pieces at the show and Mrs. Joseph Fulford will exhibit a beautiful hooked rug she has recently completed. Among the many lovely exhibits will be a floral centerpiece by Mrs. Elizah Gentry, a gardening enthusiast, some very clever table decorations made by Mrs. Hollis Sweeney and some very attractive water colors and charcoal drawings done by Julia Jenkins.

The new AAUW officers for the 1963-64 year are: Mrs. Nancy Finken, president; Mrs. Louise Kukula, vice president (membership); Mrs. Frances Scott, second vice president (program); Mrs. Lola Bermudez, secretary and Mrs. Katie Haven, treasurer.

The area representatives are Mrs. Duff Hansen, community problems; Mrs. Jan Sweeney, cultural interests; Mrs. Judy Adams, education, and Mrs. Phyllis Crane, world problems.

AN EVENING of fun is the purpose and the promise of the annual Mercy ball to be held October 19 in the South San Francisco Golf and Country club, according to Mrs. Jack Rose, public relations director of the Westlake Catholic Women's association.

"This is planned as just a social gathering for the members of our parish and any guests they care to invite," Mrs. Rose stated. "We aren't involved in any fund-raising campaign or anything of that nature. All we are trying to do is to gather together the members of our parish for an evening of fellowship and fun."

Mrs. Fredrick Arnke is chairman of the ball and Mrs. Dale Johnson is co-chairman, Mrs. Rodney Nessier is chairman of the decoration committee.

The semi-formal affair will begin at 7:30 p.m. when cocktails are served. Dinner and dancing to the music of Ray Haekett and his orchestra will follow. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. John Grealish, PL 6-0573, or Mrs. Edward Aranzino, PL 5-7957.

Mrs. Rose announced that details of the ball will be discussed when the association holds its regular monthly meeting in the Our Lady of Mercy parish hall at 8 p.m. Monday evening.

Judge George B. Harris, chief judge of the U. S. District Court and chairman of the board of directors of Mary's Help hospital, will be the principal speaker at the meeting. Mrs. Anthony Formosa will be director of hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Le Pas of Nanaimo, British Columbia, are the current house guests of Mrs. Alvin Muylaert of Abbott avenue in Daly City. Mrs. Muylaert is a secretary at the North San Mateo county district sanitation office.

MRS. EDWARD SMITH and Mrs. Lois Floyd lead the program at the regular monthly meeting of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church Women's association meeting.

The association's Rocky Mountain circle will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in the home of Mrs. Jean Cuniberdi and the Knoxville, Pikesville and Mary Holmes circles will hold meetings later this month.

MRS. DOROTHY CARRINGTON will be honored as the past president who has traveled the farthest to attend a salute to past leaders during the Memory Lane Fashion show being presented October 19 by the Mothers club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

According to Mrs. Richard Holmberg, fashion show chairman, Mrs. Carrington is making the trip to Daly City from her current home in Jackson, where she is the owner of a bowling alley.

Others who will be among the honored guests attending will be the Rev. James Bergin and the Rev. John Sullivan, club chaplain. Richard Holmberg and Ben Parodi, husbands of the chairman and co-chairman of the show, will attend also, as will Mrs. Parodi's father, Gus Ford.

Several prizes are in store for all the guests of honor and everyone attending will be eligible to win one of the marvelous door prizes being offered.

A spectacular attraction will be glamour wigs worn by the hostesses and the lovely corsages that all of the honored guests will wear. According to Mrs. Holmberg, Mr. and Mrs. George Bertucci, longtime friends of the parish and owners of the Bouquet Florist in Colma, have volunteered to donate corsages to each past president attending the fashion show.

The children of Our Lady of Perpetual Help are now busy helping make the show a financial success by soliciting donations for the fashion show fund. According to Mrs. Holmberg, the Mothers' club is going to reward the most successful youngsters by presenting the boy with the most donations a ticket to see a San Francisco Seals hockey game and the girl with a free ticket to the fashion show. Even the class that can amass the largest contribution will be awarded a prize.

Tickets for the show are nearly all sold, Mrs. Holmberg reports, but anyone wishing to attend may phone Mrs. Evelyn McGuire, PL 5-0785. The remaining reservations will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES STOCK and children, Bobby and Claudia again are home after spending a week in Grand Canyon and Las Vegas.

ALEX BERNSTEIN celebrated his ninth birthday recently with a party for his young friends in the neighborhood. Alex is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bernstein of Skyline drive.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 16 years old and my girl is 15. The last couple of times we parked, we found ourselves getting carried away. I really like my girl and she likes me. It's getting serious. I'm afraid of what will happen. What can we do

V. T.

Dear V. T.:

At 16, your emotions are easily carried away, as you have found out. So first, avoid any occasion to park alone, or be left alone. Begin double dating. You're safer with others around.

Another recourse is to take the bus rather than your car. Then you couldn't park even if you wanted to.

Another thing you might do is become active in a teen-age club where you both can join and become members of committees and such and you'll keep busy by having fun and still be together.

You see, at 16 you can't control your emotions as well as you would like to or as well as you think you can. So your rule of thumb should be: "Safety in numbers."

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

I am 15 and my mother is 36. How do I get her to act her age. She trys to buy the same styles of clothes that I do and she looks ridiculous. She joins in the conversation with my girl friends and me and I really get embarrased. I know she's trying to be a friend, but why can't she just be a mother.

A Motherless Girl.

Dear Motherless:

First, you are not motherless. Your mother may be trying too hard but she's trying, that's more than I can say for some. She thinks she is doing what pleases you.

As to what should be done:

1. Introduce her to your friend's mothers and then she might see how foolish she looks.

2. Sit down and explain the whole thing to her, do it calmly and nicely not to hurt her feelings.

3. Talk to your father and ask him to talk to her. Remind him that you have enough friends. You want a mother.

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:

Us guys want you to tell us what steps to take. We want to wear burmuda shorts to school on hot days. Girls' skirts are short and nothing is said. Why can't we show our knees

14 Knee Showers

Dear Knee Showers:

If I were you, I would arrange a meeting with the principal and the dean of boys and have an open discussion. They will tell you why you can or can't wear them.

I'm told that they wear them down south and in some of the states where the weather is warm.

So, put all of your 28 knees under a desk along with your principal and deans. I'm sure they will be glad to sit down and come up with decision you both will be satisfied with. Give it a try.

Teen-agers: If you have a problem or topic you'd like to have me discuss, you may write me, Joe Bavaresco, in care of this newspaper.

The Top Ten

Here is a list of the top 10 tunes teen-agers in the North county are listening to, according to reports from local record stores:

Book Range Extensive

Books ranging from "How to Get Into College," to "Peanuts," and authors from James Baldwin to Emily Dickinson can be found in Westmoor's book store.

To stir up reading interest, manager Nancy Loes plans a "book of the week" program for which numerous new books are being ordered.

In addition, the store has books mentioned on many teachers' reading lists.

Open during both lunch hours and sometimes before and after school, the book store is run by Miss Loes, her assistant manager, Cathie McCaffery, and staff members Terry Hunter, Linda Ransom, and Sherry Rosen.

Hansen Heads Senior Class

Bob Hansen defeated John Cuniberti for the presidency of the Westmoor High school senior class in recent elections.

Marilyn Derham won over Steve Malmuth to be vice president. The secretary is Darlene Brown, who beat Dorothy Getchel and Kathy Barile. Ruth Richardson is treasurer. She defeated Lanette Howard and Chris Hale.

Robin Orr defeated Anita Capps, Peggy Mader, Alex Mattson and Joyce Whittaker for the vice president slot.

The secretary position was won by Sue Ertola. She won over Barbara Butterworth, Pat Plyer and Stacey Stack. Linda Eisenmann is treasurer, emerging victor over Susan Stavish, Sue Bromley, Debbi Skootsky and Diana Young.

Dave Milton beat Ron Baker for the Junior class presidency.

He will be assisted by vice president Mary Wright, who defeated Marcia Price and Carol Boyd. Karen Kruger beat Mary Messier for the secretary's slot and Albert Smith is treasurer.

Elected president of Westmoor's freshman class was Rich Esposto. He defeated Dennis Houlihan, Leanna Lucchesi, and Carol Rahmer to win the spot.

Paul Geller defeated Micheal Harvey, Gail Land, Aimee Lever, and Bill Villalon to become vice president.

Taking the secretarial role is Charlotte Morse who emerged victorious over Christy Bertling and Gail Donovan.

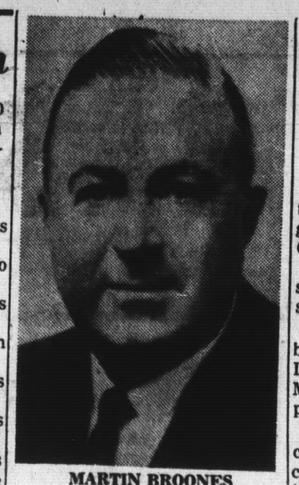
Stephen McGowan will handle the money as he won over Al Delgado, Ginger Giommona and Muriel Friedman.

Husbands to Be Invited

Members of the American Lutheran Churchwomen of Westlake Lutheran, church have invited their husbands to their next meeting at 8 p.m. Sunday at the church.

A movie, "The Uncommitted," will be shown. A nominating committee will present a slate of officers for consideration by members.

Mrs. Margaret Hammer and Mrs. De Cora Garden will be the hostesses.



MARTIN BROONES
To Give Lecture

Sunday Talk Scheduled at Ninth Church

A lecture on Christian Science will be given at the Ninth Church of Christ, Scientist, at 175 Junipero Serra boulevard in San Francisco at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The speaker will be Martin Broones of Beverly Hills, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

The title of his talk will be: "Christian Science: It's Answer for Today's Demands."

His talk will be sponsored by Ninth Church.

A native of New York City, Broones graduated from Columbia university and later studied musical composition under John Ireland of the Royal College of Music in London.

In addition to composing a number of well-known sacred compositions for solo voices and musical scores for popular light operas, he organized and was director of the first music department in the motion picture industry.

He held this role with Metro Goldwyn Mayer studios in Hollywood.

Later, he became a producer of films and radio programs and acted as manager for his wife, movie actress Charlotte Greenwood.

In 1948, Broones left the entertainment industry to devote all his time to the practice of Christian Science. He became an authorized teacher of Christian Science in 1958.

B'nai Israel Maps Service

The last two days of the Succoth holiday will be ushered in at 8 tonight with a short service at Congregation B'nai Israel. Rabbi Solomon Shore will conduct a memorial service.

Children in the congregation's religious classes will participate in a program called, "Rejoicing with the Torah," at 7 tomorrow evening.

At Friday's Sabbath evening service at 8:30 p.m., Rabbi Shore will speak on the topic: "What Does the Torah Teach Us?" The youth group and counselors of Bethlehem Lutheran church will be guests.

Simchas Torah To Be Observed

Temple Judea will observe Simchas Torah (Feast of Rejoicing of the Torah) at Sabbath evening services October 11, at 8 p.m. Friday.

The services will be held at Temple Baptist church in Stonestown.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Wechter will officiate. Candle blessing will be done by Mrs. George Riba. Mrs. Mary Flores, Mrs. Leo Kroll and Mrs. Martin Rosenblatt will be hostesses for the Oneg Shabbat after the services.

Service Set On Rally Day

The Rev. Arnim Polster will conduct a special Sunday school rally day service at Hope Lutheran church at 55 San Fernando road, Daly City, at 9:45 a.m., Sunday, Mrs. Lawrence A. Edler, Sunday school superintendent, has announced.

The service will be a special evangelistic effort to urge full attendance at Sunday school.

Sunday afternoon, children, parents and the Sunday school staff will celebrate Rally day with a picnic at San Bruno park (lower grounds).

Games and contests will be featured. Ice cream, soft drinks and coffee will be served.

EQUIPMENT STOLEN

George Applegate of 139 Willits street, Daly City, reported to police last week that thieves had stolen a cutting torch, gauges and 75 feet of hose from his truck, parked in front of his home.

Evangelistic Services Set By Baptists

The Westlake Community Baptist church will hold special evangelistic services from Sunday to October 18 at 7:30 p.m. each day.

Gospel messages will be presented by the pastor, Dr. H. Hansel Stembridge Jr.

Music and singing will be led by Ronald Foreman, Mrs. James Lederer will be the organist and Mrs. Edward Newkirk will be the pianist.

Westlake Community Baptist church will be a center for the collection of clothing and other items for overseas children, refugees, victims of floods and famine, the sick and the aged.

Men and boys need suits, trousers, coats, work clothes, underwear, socks, work shoes and shirts.

Other items needed are blankets and quilts, mufflers, caps and gloves, layettes, yard goods and yarn, soap, medical kits, heavy duty fabric, bed linens and cloth remnants for sewing and sewing kits.

All donations may be left at the church. Donations of eight cents per pound to cover costs of mailing also will be appreciated.

Members to Be Welcomed

New church members will be welcomed at the 1 a.m. worship service Sunday at Broadmoor Presbyterian church.

Member prospects will first meet with the session of the church at 10:40 a.m. when they declare their Christian faith and loylty.

The Junior choir will sing at the 9:30 a.m. worship service and the adult choir at the later service. The pastor, Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, will preach on the subject: "The Touch of the Master's Hand."

Friday at 6:30 p.m. a church family night will be held. Emphasizing fellowship in the church the evening will begin with a potluck supper and will conclude with community singing led by Ken Gillespie and the showing of scenic color pictures taken by Del Severy.

Saturday, the church sponsored Boy Scout troop 84 will hold a Hallow'een candy sale throughout neighbors.

Also on Saturday, the high school youth of the church will leave at 6:30 p.m. for a hayride from Shamrock Farms in Pedro Valley. Scheduled are a bonfire and refreshments. Dorothy Spratt and Alice Kerr are the advisors.

Divine Services

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA AND PACIFICA

Judea Families Build Succahs

Fifteen Temple Judea families have built special Succah booths in connection with the Jewish Festival of Succos.

The booths have been decorated with traditional fruits and greenery in the same way the ancient Hebrews decorated their booths in the desert.

According to the Bible, the Succah was constructed in fulfillment of a command given by God to the children of Israel:

"Ye shall dwell in booths seven days . . . that your generations may know that I made the children of Israel to dwell in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt."

In the photo above, Rabbi Herbert Morris of Temple Judea visits with Mrs. John G. Taylor to offer blessings associated with the Festival of Succos.

They are standing outside a Succah booth that Mr. and Mrs. Taylor built in the backyard of their home at 251 Belhaven drive, Daly City.

The Jewish observance is a festival of thanksgiving to God. The American holiday of Thanksgiving was inspired by the festival.

Talk on UN Is Planned

"Patriotism and the United Nations" will be the topic of an address by Urban G. Whittaker at a meeting of the Pacifica Unitarian fellowship at 10:30 Sunday morning.

Whittaker is a professor of political science and international relations at San Francisco State college and is a member of the board of the American Association for the United Nations.

The fellowship meets at Oddstad recreation center.

Westside Will Vie in Sunday School Contest

Westside Baptist Church of South San Francisco will participate in the annual Sunday school promotional program of the Baptist General Conference Sunday through November 17.

Teen churches, comprising the Northern California Baptist conference, will participate in a Sunday school attendance contest.

The churches will be divided into two leagues—American and National. The Rev. Glenn Anderson, pastor of Willow Glen Baptist church, is the leagues' commissioner.

The Sunday school at Westside Baptist will be in the National league.

At the 11 a.m. service at the church Sunday, the Rev. A. David Donnelly, pastor, will speak on the topic: "Eternal Punishment—Fact or Fiction."

At the 7 p.m. evening gospel hour, Rev. Donnelly will continue a study of the Book of Colossians.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARY COIL

Terra Nova students gathered for their first dance of the year and from all reports, it was a hugh success. Nearly 600 students attended and they enjoyed swimming, basketball, volleyball and dancing to a local dance combo, The Jesters.

If student participation is kept this high, the class treasuries will be in good shape by the time the new year rolls around.

Each class has elected new officers. They are:

Tenth grade—Terry Bowers, president; Jean Burnside, vice president; Judy Ames, secretary, and Barbara Said, treasurer.

Eleventh grade—Jeannie Rodgers, president; Tony Salvemini, vice president; Ann Cunningham, secretary and Sharon Day, treasurer.

Twelfth grade—George Mason, president; Allen Kyes, vice president; Carolyn Neeley, secretary and Joe Higgins, treasurer.

A man on the move is our new Dean of Boys, Floyd Gonella. Not only is he the dean but also he's still head of the athletic department and coach of the golf team.

With all this running around, Gonella has wondered if a huge turret could be built in the middle of the school so he can watch over all his duties.

One thing for sure: Coach Gonella keeps in condition.

Westmoor Whirl

By SHEILA STAVISH

SATIRICALLY spoofing their rival for last Friday's football game, four school-spirited Westmoorites presented a short skit at the afternoon rally. "Mother Goose," played by Rinice Philips, narrated the maudlin tale of a Burlingame Panther who wished desperately to become a Ram. However, the inferior beast had not the courage, stamina, nor touchdown talent to reach his lofty goal.

Political matriarchy may soon befall unsuspecting males; Westmoor's junior statesmen are all girls. Perhaps planning to correct the organization's inappropriate appelation apropos to gender are newly elected president, Diana Stipelkovich; vice president, Pat Woodman, and secretary treasurer, Terry Hunter.

Studying Thespian techniques to polish their performing, advanced drama students will make a grand entrance en masse to Oakland Friday night to see a production of "Bye Bye Birdie." Talented Westmoor High school sophomore Susan Alexander has a leading role in the play.

Economics teacher Dexter Leland received quite a jolt when he realized how his lectures could be ambiguously misconstrued. He had explained that a change in form will provide raw materials with usefulness for the consumer. Next morning a facetious student misguidedly (or mischievously) presented the class with a lingerie ad—an example of form utility.

Spending a sumptuous, luxurious summer, living in Spain, were English instructors Jean Lory and Heidi Ergang. Wistfully recalling their abrupt affluence, Miss Lory reports of dining lavishly for a dollar and a half and having her hair done for 50 cents.

Oceana Teen Program Set

A teen-age program in the gymnasium of Oceana High school will be conducted by the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department beginning tomorrow.

A minimum registration of 30 is needed before the program can begin. Activities will include basketball, badminton, and tumbling.

Holders of teen cards will be admitted free. Registration can be made at the Pacifica City hall.

The department also is conducting a program for teen-agers at the Oddstad Recreation center from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays and from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Fridays.

Teen Writing Contest Opens

"The Foreign Student in America — An Opportunity for Friendship" is the title of the 29th annual National High school writing contest, to be sponsored in the 1963-64 school year by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

All regularly enrolled full-time students in public and parochial high schools are eligible to enter. Contest folders and further information may be obtained by contacting San Francisco Rainbow Auxiliary 2065, V. F. W. War Memorial building, Van Ness avenue and McAllister street, San Francisco.

TWO TICKETS TO THE BIG GAME
CALIFORNIA-STANFORD NOV. 23
For the Week's Best Entry

Send in your entry in the FOOTBALL CONTEST

sponsored by The Post and The Times

RULES AND INSTRUCTIONS

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Ties" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will only be given to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the S. F. 49ers will make in Sunday's game in the box provided. (This estimate will only be used in case of ties between two contestants.)
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:
   FOOTBALL CONTEST
   San Mateo Times
   145 Second Avenue
   San Mateo, Calif.
   or to
   FOOTBALL CONTEST
   The Post
   30 Park Plaza Drive
   Daly City, Calif.
4. Entries must be postmarked prior to midnight Thursday of this week or delivered to The Times prior to midnight Thursday of this week. The Times is not responsible for entries lost, delayed or destroyed or which fail to reach The Times.
5. To receive the cash prize the winner must pick all 15 games correctly. If the entry does not pick all games right, then the winner will receive 2 tickets to the Big Game, California vs. Stanford on Nov. 23. The previous week's contest cash prize will be added to the next week's contest if it is not distributed to a winner. This cash prize will be given to the winner of the final week's contest for games to be played Nov. 16-17 if it has not been distributed before. The final week's winner will not need to guess all 15 games to win the cash prize. In case ties cannot be broken between contestants by means of the tie-breaker, the prize will be divided equally. (This includes ties between contestants who pick 15 winners.
6. A bonus of $50 will be given to each prize winner (not Big Game ticket winners) who is a home-delivered subscriber to The San Mateo Times or indicates immediate delivery of The Times is wanted. To qualify for this bonus, either of the boxes at the bottom of the entry blank must be checked. In the event, two or more subscribers divide the contest cash prize, the bonus prize will be divided in the same manner.
7. A contestant may submit as many entries as desired on the official entry blank but only one exact-sized facsimile of the official entry blank. Submission of more than one facsimile in any one week will render all facsimiles submitted by that contestant void.
8. Entries may be attached to a post card, mailed in an envelope or delivered by hand to the office of The Times.
9. Anyone may enter the contest except employees of The Times or immediate members of their family.
10. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decisions. All entries become the property of The Times. No answers may be returned. The Times reserves the right to correct any typographical errors in the entry blank which affect the outcome of the contest. Answers to the contest or winners' names will NOT be given out over the phone. Winners will be notified by The Times.

NEW AUTO IS PRIZE

Skyline Stores Open Festival

Want to win a beautiful brand new Falcon?

Merchants of Skyline Plaza Shopping Center are going to make this possible during their Fall Festival, which commences today and runs through November 8, according to Ray Forcina, merchants association president.

The Ford Falcon is just one of the prizes that are going to be given away in this contest. In addition to the automobile, there will be other awards valued at more than $1500, including 10 valuable wrist watches and a $150 barbecue set.

Two drawing ticket booths have been set up for the convenience of shoppers in the Skyline Plaza area, Forcina explained. These booths will be open daily (except Sunday) between 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Participants may ask for free drawing tickets at the booths.

Drawings for the car and the other prizes will be held Friday, November 8. The first drawing, during which five watches and the barbecue set will be given away, will be held at 8:15 p.m. The final drawing at which five more watches and the Ford Falcon will be awarded, will be at 9:15 p.m., Forcina said.

Visitors to the shopping center may obtain tickets each time they come to Skyline Plaza, the merchants' president said.

Rules of the contest, outlined by Forcina, include: Entrants must be 18 years of age or over, and must be present at the time of the drawing to obtain their award; employes of Skyline Plaza Shopping Center are not eligible.

BUSINESS AND FINANCE

New Records Are Posted At Airport

All-time highs in passenger and air freight volumes were recorded at San Francisco airport during August, Belford Brown, airport general manager said last week in his monthly report to the San Francisco Public Utilities commission.

The passenger total was 730,102, up 15.5 per cent over a year ago, Brown reported, and added that it was the first time in history that more than 700,000 scheduled airline passengers had passed through the airport.

The air freight record was 15,711,461 pounds, an increase of 21.2 per cent over August of last year.

Mail by air totaled 5,979,915 pounds, a gain of 8.2 per cent, and air express volume was up 6.2 per cent to 1,31,221 pounds.

Aircraft movements — landings and take-offs—totaled 22,063 for the month, including 1160 military, 5461 non-scheduled carrier, itinerant and locally based private or corporate-owned aircraft, and 15,442 by scheduled air carrier.

The scheduled air carrier total was up 5.2 per cent from a year ago, and approximately 80 per cent of these movements were by jet-powered aircraft.

Brown also reported that further delays in completion of final construction phases have again necessitated postponement of the date for additional airline tenants to move into the South Terminal building.

At present, only Trans World Airlines is operational there, having moved in on September 16, the day following the formal public dedication of the new terminal.

737 Attend Ram Dance

Entering the boys' gym of Westmoor High school Friday night were 737 Westmoorites who came to insure the success ofthe first dance of the year — "Ramrock VII."

Admission, free to study body card holders, required that only tennis shoes or socks be worn on the gym floor.

School spirit, shown that afternoon at a home football game against Burlingame, was transferred to the gym in the form of white Westmoor pennants and a large green burlap sign welcoming the Rams.

Clothed in school attire, students danced on a semi-dark floor as the only lights on were limited to those over bleachers.

Real Estate Firm Opens In Daly City

The fast-growing Northern San Mateo county real estate industry has added a new name to its ranks.

Danco Associates has opened for business at 2488 Junipero Serra boulevard, Daly City.

The new firm, specializing in residential real estate is operated by Daniel V. Begovich.

He has been active in North Peninsula real estate sales since 1955, serving as manager for two of Daly City's larger real estate firms from 1956 to 1963.

Joining Begovich at the new office are Peter J. Lommori and Gloria Foster, both well known in local real estate sales.

Danco Associates will also offer insurance and business opportunitie services, Begovich said.

Airport Has Rent Dispute

Four federal agencies are planning to move into San Francisco International Airport's new terminal building Tuesday but have reiterated they have no intention of paying the $97,000 a year rent the city is demanding.

They will still get dunned for the money and they won't get any janitorial service, the city said.

The rent fight over uncleaned rooms is another chapter in a long battle between the federal government and airports where passengers arrive from abroad.

Agencies involved are the Immigration and Naturlization Service, Customs, plant quarantine service of the Department of Agriculture, and the Public Health Service.

Spokesmen for these agencies said the House Appropriations Committee has forbidden use of appropriated money for rental of airport space on the grounds that government subsidies for airports are so large the space should be furnished free.

DC Broker Gets Scroll

Paul G. Selmi of 6771 Mission street, Daly City, has receved an engrossed scroll from the Firemen's Insurance company for representing the company for 25 years.

The presentation was made by John Beig and William Miller, field men for the insurance firm.

Autograph Time

STORE VISITOR—Westlake Music store in the Westlake Shopping center had a noted visitor during the center's big Sidewalk Sale promotion. Myron Floren, featured accordionist on the Lawrence Welk show, was there to autograph albums and pictures for store customers. Floren, left, autographs his latest album for store owner Robert Morford.

Four Coast School Districts Agree on Unification

In an unprecedented display of unanimity, schools on the Coastside Thursday night voted to unify the Half Moon Bay High and component elementary school districts.

The augmented meeting of the Half Moon Bay study on reorganization of districts in the Half Moon Bay was held at the Farallone school in Montara and was attended by the county committee on school district organization and trustees from the Half Moon Bay High school district and the Coastside, Montara and Tunis elementary school districts.

The tentative vote taken was 14-0 in favor of unification. The precedent was in this unity, as the county committee has in the past found consiedrable divergence of opinion and the tendency on the part of school boards has been to resist reorganization.

This was the fourth augmented meeting held. With the taking of the tentative vote, the next step required by law is to call one or more public meetings in the area.

Another augmented meeting will follow, at which time a final recommendation vote is taken.

If this vote still is in favor of unification, the recommendation goes to the state board of education.

If approved there, the issue comes back to the county superintendent of education and the board of supervisors to call an election in the area.

If by a simple majority, the unification measure passes, it becomes law provided the election is held before February 1.

A. H. Glantz, deputy secretary of the county committee, explained that unification would mean one board and one administrative setup.

He said this does not guarantee a costs saving as such, but it does make opsible, under proper leadership, a better program for the same amount of money.

The school program would be co-ordinated rfom kindergarten through grade 12.

Pedestrian Hit by Bus

A Daly City pedestrian suffered a head injury Friday afternoon when he was struck by a San Francisco Muni bus on San Jose avenue, near Bepler street.

The pedestrian, Harry F. Appleby of 99 Theta street, was treated at Franklin hospital in San Francisco. Police identified the driver of the bus as Donald J. Melius, 45, of San Francisco.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

WELL, NOW, it seems we have more than one cold war thawing these days.

The international stage may have its Yank-Russ thaw but right here in the North county, we have two arch protagonists ready to cast away the hatchet and sit down to a session with the peace pipe. Which is about time.

The gentlemen who steer the municipal affairs of Daly City and Brisbane have decided that all those snide remarks they've been making about each other that henceforth the dove of peace should fly straight and true over the North county.

At least one public official has predicted that the session scheduled tonight in Toto's Restaurant will evolve into a love duet—that all that prattle early this year was just the voice of municipal pride rather than an honest-to-goodness North county feud.

For after all, Daly City and Brisbane are next door neighbors — now that they've neatly divided up Bayshore City between them. And since we're a very neighborly county, it just won't do to have any more over the fence squabbling.

TONIGHT'S SESSION, besides making friends of two cities, could spur a similar thaw in a few other wars brewing in the North county.

One is that donnybrook South San Francisco, San Bruno and the citizenry in Westborough are having over the proposed annexation of the unpopulated part of Westborough by South San Francisco.

Funny how the worm doth turn. Nobody — but nobody — seemed to care much about Westborough three years ago when Daly City officials wanted to annex the area.

The move foundered when residents voted the annexation down in a referendum.

Now it's 1963 and annexations in the North county are very much in vogue. So, both South San Francisco and San Bruno are angling for Westborough.

And while the angling is going on, the people who live there aren't about to brook any move that would take in the uninhabited part of their area and leave them out.

It's kind of like a three ring circus—without a master of ceremonies.

ANOTHER war of sorts cooking is that proposal by the South San Francisco School district to ease out of any responsibility for educating the youngsters who will be living in new homes planned for the former Christen Dairy Ranch.

Trustees say the district will be getting all the kids but few of the tax dollars that commercial development of the old ranch will produce.

That's because a few years ago North county school districts agreed that when the Christen land was developed, the extension of Hickey boulevard would be the dividing line between the South San Francisco district and the Jefferson High and Jefferson Elementary school districts.

Nobody knew then, of course, just how the land would be developed some day so the boundary that was decided upon had to be considered as sort of a potluck dividing line.

Now it turns out that the pot will favor the Jefferson districts as far as tax revenue is concerned and that's why the South San Francisco school people are unhappy.

As expected, trustees of both Jefferson districts quickly indicated they would have no part of changing the Hickey boulevard agreement and as it stands now, this North county hassle is shaping up as a great show for the bleacher fans.

IN PACIFICA, the struggle occupying stage center currently is one that has become a rather torrid potato for those who must ultimately make the decisions.

It's the dispute over what on the surface seems to be a relatively small thing—the proposal to ban "For Sale" signs on Pacifica front lawns—but which underneath has some very touchy ramifications.

Just how touchy the proposal is came to light late last month when an attorney for the State Fair Employment Practices commission told a panel meeting discussing race and housing that the sign ban was a move to discriminate against Negro buyers.

Well, that cast a different hue on the proposal, which up to then had been thought of by a number of Pacificans as just a move to improve the aesthetic appearance of their city. Or at least, that was the reason given by those who were in favor of the sign ban.

Anyway, this charge by a state official immediately plunged the proposal deeper into controversial waters than before.

In fact, so deep was the plunge, the Pacifica city council, rather than go ahead and vote on the sign ban, decided to refer the proposal to the League of California Cities for a recommendation.

AND FINALLY, we have a dispute over the rezoning of land along Geneva avenue in old Bayshore City.

A big supermarket chain wants to build an outlet on Geneva between Rio Verde and Calgary streets and for this, a strip that extends 93 feet back from Geneva must be zoned commercial.

The Daly City planning commission has approved the zoning—thus going along with zoning originally given the tract by San Mateo county planners.

The approval came after a hearing in which two petitions were presented to the commission, opposing commercial zoning.

One of the petitions was a surprise. It was offered not by neighbors in the Geneva-Rio Verde-Calgary area but by residents several miles away in Westlake—some 200 of them.

A spokesman for this group said any zoning in the Bayshore area should be decreed only after the region is thoroughly studied and after a master zoning plan for Daly City is agreed upon.

Now that's what we call taking an interested—and active—hand in one's city.

Here we have a group of residents whose homes and properties will not be affected in any way by this supermarket. Yet these people are worried for they believe that a higher issue is at stake—the future planning of the city as a whole.

All of which makes you realize that some of these North county hassles aren't so bad after all.

Coast Mulls Drain Bond Issue Plan

It appears likely that Pacifica city officials will move ahead to recommend a nearly $2-million bond issue for city-wide drainage work.

Councilmen have accepted the report of its citizens' study committee and asked for further study by City Manager Karl Baldwin.

Baldwin has been asked to collect supplementary information on the financing of a bonding program and the possibility of obtaining outside aid.

Dan Martin, chairman of the citizens' study committee, said his group has been asked by the council to continue in existence and to serve as a public information committee in promoting the bond issue if it is approved by the council.

Martin said he understood the matter could not be brought before voters for six months to a year.

The drainage study committee recommended a nearly $2 million general government obligation bond to finance major drainage projects in watershed areas, principally along Pedro, Milagra and Calera creeks, and for work on present inadequate drainage facilities.

Letters

TO THE EDITOR:

Don Miller in his Pacific Parade column of September 18 wondered why the Mary's Help hospital story had failed to stir more enthusiasm.

He said: "Mary's Help has been planned as a community hospital — not a Catholic hospital" and that stirs my enthusiasm — for truth.

No one denies that Roman Catholic hospitals render a real service to humanity. No one questions the Sisters' right to serve humanity through their private institutions when they wish, but it is incorrect to say that this is to be a "community" hospital.

The customers may be "community" and include everyone; but the hospital will be Catholic completely.

The medical code governing Roman Catholic hospitals differs in many respects from that ordinarily followed by non-Catholic physicians and hospitals.

The Catholic code is, furthermore, strictly enforced on all patients, regardless of their faith, and on all physicians using the hospital's facilities.

The Roman Catholic medical code formerly forbade a Catholic nurse to call a Protestant clergyman to minister to a patient. This rule has been relaxed because of hostile public reaction.

I am not opposed to the Catholics building a hospital but I am enthusiastically opposed to it being called a "community" hospital. Let's get the story straight.

Laguna Unit Leaders Set

Norman Sanger, incoming president of the Laguna-Salada Education association of Pacifica, has announced names of the remaining chairmanships of that organization's committees for the following year.

Rod Linhares of Pacific Manor school and Don Beck of Vallemar school will co-chair the finance committee. Mrs. Helen Manganielio of Pacific Heights school will chair the teacher education and professional standards committee.

Mrs. Marilyn Krassner again will lead the professional relations committee and Miss Rita Cameron of Pacific Heights school the legislation committee.

Robert Brown of the new Cabrillo school will handle the legislation committee and Janyce Rothstein of Vallemar school the international relations committee.

Many projects are planned by these committees during the following year that will help to improve the quality fo education for Pacifica children.

Merit Test Names Given

This is the first step toward winning a four-year Merit scholarship too a college of student's choice.

The semi-finalists comprise the highest-scoring students in each state in an initial examination. A total of 13,000 high school students in the country are semi-finalists.

The four North county students are: James P. Fotenos, Westmoor High school, Daly City; Philip L. Wells, Oceana High school, Pacifica; Sandra R. Shade, Terra Nova High school, Pacifica and Charlotte D. Gurke, El Camino High school, South San Francisco.

TIRE STOLEN

Gambler Likes The Dividends

Members of the Lake Merced Optimist club took a look at gambling through the eyes of a professional gambler last week when Raymond L. Smith of Reno's Harold's club spoke to them at Sai Wu's Chinese Gardens in Westlake.

Smith, father of Harold Smith, owner of the famed casino, told the group of some of the interesting things that have happened at the gambling tables in the past 28 years since his family started the club.

"I don't know of another business that pays better dividends," Smith said.

People hear a great deal more about illegal gambling than about legalized gambling, he noted.

"It makes a more interesting story for the newspapers. "But you would be surprised how many professional cheaters there are in business today."

He said he once talked to someone seeking a job as a professional cheater. The man could take a deck of cards, stack them in his favor, let a person cut them and put them back the way he stacked them.

"I'm trained to spot these things," Smith said. "But I couldn't catch him at it."

The guy wasn't hierd though, he added, because the club doesn't have any use for professional cheaters.

"Honesty pays better."

Smith said that slot machines are often known as one-armed bandits. Harold's club had 35 machines when they were first introduced.

Smith said the machines first had a payoff of 18 to 22 per cent for the house. He experimented by having the house payoff cut to ten per cent on six of the machines.

"More people began to play those six machines than any of the others," he said.

The machines were then cut down to six per cent and finally to two and a half to three per cent for the house, where they are now.

The jackpot payoff percentage is slightly higher, he said.

The club has increased the number of machines from 35 to 362. It pays approximately $440 annually on taxes per machine.

"One erroneous impression people have of gambling is that when you win big there is an internal revenue man waiting behind you to take his cut," Smith said.

"There has only been one such case in the state of Nevada and that guy practically dared the federal agents to do it."

One member of the Optimist club asked Smith how the club handles "cry babies."

Pacifica Gas Main Broken

A four-inch high pressure gas main was broken Friday noon during excavations for the new coastal freeway just south of Eureka Square Shopping center in Pacifica.

Police detoured traffic and asked drivers not to smoke while passing through the area. Fire trucks stood by as repairs were made.

Dino Cassinelli, state freeway resident engineer, said the main was capped within a couple of hours. He added that brisk winds dispersed the gas.

Yesterday, two detours were scheduled to be opened because of freeway construction—one at Reina del Mar and the other at the Sharp Park golf course.

Layman Plans Sunday Sermon

Luther Bergdall, a member of Holy Cross Lutheran church in Pacifica, will deliver a sermon on the topic, "Bait for Fishermen," at the Sunday morning service at the church.

The church services will be conducted by laymen until a new pastor is named to replace the Rev. William Klover Jr., who has accepted a call in Northridge, Calif.

S.S.F. Family Loses Its Possessions in Blaze

A South San Francisco family that had been preparing to move had almost all their family personal possessions destroyed early Thursday morning when a fire broke out in a rear bedroom in which they had stored everything they had planned to take with them.

The fire was so hot by the time it was discovered at 2 a.m. that Mrs. Arthur Bridgeman of 214 Dundee drive suffered a burned hand when she attempted to open a door to the bedroom after being awakened by the smell of smoke.

She aroused her husband who opened the door and then slammed it closed when he discovered the room completely filled with flames.

After telephoning firemen, Bridgeman knocked down flames somewhat by smashing a window and spraying water from a garden hose into the room.

It took firemen two hours to extinguish the fire, which Battalion Chief Jack Drago reported destroyed the bedroom and did an estimated $5000 damage.

Drago reported Mr. and Mrs. Bridgeman had taken their children elsewhere to stay while they were getting ready to move.

He said when they returned to the home at 9:30 last night there was no odor of smoke in the home, although the couple did not go into the room.

Grace Chapel Plans Talks

The Rev. Billy Lewis, a widely traveled preacher, will be the guest speaker at a series of special services starting at 11 a.m. Sunday at Grace Chapel Community church at 100 Los Banos avenue.

The services will continue each evening through October 20 except Monday and Saturday.

Reverend Lewis has traveled extensively throughout the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

In addition to his talk, Mrs. Evelyn Thorness will participate in the program as organist and vocal soloist. She has appeared as a concert artist in the United States, Canada and Europe.

Boys Injured As Car Rolls

Two young Daly City boys were injured last week when an auto they were playing in rolled down a hill and struck a utility pole.

Mrs. Mary G. Semish of 144 Santa Cruz avenue, Daly City, a mother of one of the boys, told police she was visiting a friend and had parked her car with the wheels curbed and the emergency brake on.

Somehow, she told police, her son James, 3, and James Beck, 2, entered the auto, released the brake and turned the wheels.

The boys were treated Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for head injuries, cuts and bruises.

Fresh Apples Flavor Saucy Recipes; Treat the Family With Them Now

Apples, apples, apples! Carloads of firm, tangy, orchard-fresh apples in our local markets are harbingers of a tremendous harvest from Washington state's famous apple valleys. Recent arrivals are the all-purpose Jonathans, smaller in size than their broad-shouldered brothers, the Red Delicious. In-season prices will enable you to treat the family to dishes they like best, keep a bowl of this crisp fragrant fruit handy for low-calorie, between-meal snacking and, best of all, make plenty of fresh-flavored applesauce.

Not only is freshly made applesauce the usual way of preparing applesauce (steaming sliced apples in a minimum amount of water, then adding sweetening and flavoring) we recommend the traditional method used by many growers' wives, "Fresh Oven Applesauce." This is an easily prepared, chunk-style sauce which may come directly from oven-to-table. It's excellent served along with your main course. The "Applesauce Cookies" are chewy and flavorful, and excellent partners for a glass of mid-afternoon milk. The "Danish Applesauce Cake" though easily prepared, is a festive dessert worthy of your favorite club group or dinner party.

FRESH OVEN APPLESAUCE

6 Washington apples, peeled, cored, and thinly sliced
½ cup sugar
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
Juice of ½ lemon

Place thin apple slices in oven-proof dish or casserole. Sprinkle with sugar and spices. Cover casserole and bake about 20 minutes at 350 degrees F. until apples are soft but not overcooked. (Too long cooking darkens them). Remove from oven and sprinkle with lemon juice, if desired. Mix well. Serve as meat accompaniment, dessert or breakfast "starter."

APPLESAUCE COOKIES

½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
2 cups oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)
1 cup brown sugar
¾ cup shortening, soft
1 egg
1 cup fresh applesauce

Sift together flour, soda, salt, spices into bowl. Add remaining ingredients; beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Drop by tablespoons onto greased cooky sheets. Flatten with bottom of glass dipped in a cinnamon-sugar mixture. Sprinkle with additional cinnamon-sugar. Top each with a shelled walnut half. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 2½ dozen cookies.

Spicy Delight Will Score After Game

After the big football game, when the gang comes back to your house for refreshments, a well-balanced array is sure to score with your guests. Prepare-ahead-of-time items are easiest for the hostess and usually taste best to the hungry crowd.

An unusual salad such as this Cottage Cheese Spicy Delight, devised by home economists may be made beforehand and stored in the refrigerator.

COTTAGE CHEESE SPICY DELIGHT

1 pint small-curd cottage cheese
½ cup pineapple preserves
1 tablespoon crystallized ginger (finely chopped)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup coarsely chopped pecans

Mix above ingredients together. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves and top mound with pecan half.

Fix, Freeze Main Dishes Days Ahead

With so many activities taking place, smart homemakers find it easier to prepare dishes ahead of time and freeze them.

The more casseroles and meat dishes prepared beforehand, the more leisure hours you will have.

Tasty Rolled Stuffed Meat Loaf is an inexpensive "freeze ahead" meal. The meat loaf gets its zesty flavor from the American blue cheese. The blue-marbled cheese enhances the appeal of this practical meat dish because beef and blue cheese are natural flavormates.

ROLLED STUFFED MEAT LOAF

2 cups soft bread cubes
½ cup milk
¼ cup minced onion
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 egg

Soak bread cubes in milk. Then combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pat meat mixture into an 8 inch x 14 inch rectangle on a double sheet of aluminum foil. Makes 6-8 generous servings.

STUFFING

½ cup mushroom pieces
½ cup minced onion
½ cup butter
1 cup soft bread cubes
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
½ cup chopped parsley
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)

Saute celery, mushrooms, onion in butter. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Spread over meat mixture. Roll up in foil, folding foil over to secure well. Freeze. Bake at 450 degrees for one hour, 15 minutes. Open foil for last 15 minutes to brown. Slice and serve hot.

If not frozen, bake at 450 degrees for 45 minutes. Open foil last 15 minutes.

Shrimp in Bouillon a Sea Treat

Shrimp Cooked in Court Bouillon with Cocktail Sauce and Salad Greens
Hot Rolls
Apple Pie with Cheese Beverage

SHRIMP COOKED IN COURT BOUILLON

1½ quarts water
1 rib celery, sliced
1 carrot, sliced
1 small onion, sliced
Juice of ½ lemon
1 teaspoon salt
3 or 4 peppercorns

Wash and drain shrimp. Bring water, celery, carrot, onion, lemon juice, salt and peppercorns to a boil; add shrimp. Cover and simmer until shrimp are pink and cooked through—3 to 5 minutes. Remove shrimp, peel and devein; chill; serve with cocktail sauce and salad greens. The liquid (court bouillon) in which the shrimp was cooked may be strained and used as a base for a fish and vegetable soup.

A Way to Try Zucchini

Zucchinis are plentiful. Here's a way to enjoy them. Perfect for family supper.

Hamburgers Mashed Potatoes
Zucchini Medley Bread Tray
Upside Down Cake Beverage

ZUCCHINI MEDLEY

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 large onion, cut into thin strips
1 pound (2 medium) zucchini, sliced into thin rounds
1 small green pepper, cut into thin strips
2 large tomatoes, each cut into 8 wedges
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons sugar
¼ teaspoon allspice

In a skillet (10 inches or larger) melt butter; add onion and zucchini and mix well with butter. Cover and cook gently, stirring a few times, just until zucchini is tender—5 minutes or so. Add green pepper and tomatoes; sprinkle with salt, pepper, sugar and allspice; mix well. Cover and cook just until tomatoes are hot through. Makes 6 servings.

Meat, Potatoes and Onions Are Partners in Hearty Meals Men Like

Meat, potatoes and onions partner happily into meals all men like. Nothing fancy or tricked up—just good sturdy food! Favorite meals, as chefs in famed restaurants and drive-ins alike will verify, are:

Pot roast swathed in the thick onion slices cooked with it, mashed potatoes to loll in the gravy;.

Roast beef with pan-roasted potatoes, creamed onion slices flecked with slivered almonds or given a dusting of grated Parmesan cheese;

Broiled steak, a big baked Idaho potato dripping with butter, fried onions doused in soy sauce. (He'd settle for ground beef if it were joined by friends such as these!)

And stew — beef, veal, or lamb — with potatoes and onions adding their own distinctive flavor.

As plate partners for the meat of the meal and potatoes any style, HE relishes onions—French-fried, butter-fried, crisp slices or rings as an edible garnish, and great sweet Spanish onions with a savory stuffing to accent their mild flavor. Any of these are good with meats of all kinds, fish, poultry, game.

For onion dishes such as these, you'll want those large round Idaho-grown beauties with their creamy-white or, more often, golden-bronze skins. Mild-mannered in nature, they live up to their name — Swett Spanish Onions.

In preparing them, remove skins with care, starting at the root end, taking off the thin paper-like covering. This requires a sharp-pointed knife and a little patience to strip off the outer coat without digging into the first layer of flesh to spoil its beauty. Do this when the onions are to be used as for Stuffed Onions.

For slices or rings, the easy way is to slice the onion before peeling. The skins will easily slip off the slices. Then separate the rings with a gentle push, if rings are what you want. The end pieces may be minced and used as seasoning. If not to be used at once, put minced onion in a glass jar with a tight-fitting cover and place jar in refrigerator. They will keep for several days. Or wrap into foil packets and place in freezer for handy seasoning use.

Since the flesh of Sweet Spanish onions is arranged in concentric rings, when cut with care, the slices are most beautiful and interesting, and they easily separate into rings. These rings are perfect for French-frying. If the seed stalk has had a chance to develop, it will distort the slices by dry or almost dry straw-like pieces of material slipped between the rings.

STUFFED IDAHO SWEET SPANISH ONIONS

Yeild: 6 servings

Peel 6 large even-sized Idaho Sweet Spanish Onions carefully to preserve shape. Cut a slice from the top of each. Using a skewer, pierce each onion several times through the center to keep whole while cooking. Place close together in saucepan or Dutch oven in 2 inches of salted water. Cover rightly. When water is boiling, reduce heat to simmering point. Cook until not quite tender—30 to 35 minutes. Drain onions upside-down. When cool, scoop out centers (a grapefruit knife is handy), leaving a shell about ½-inch thick. Centers may be chopped and added to diced carrots or peas for a second-day vegetable, or added to stew or soup for seasoning

STUFFING

2 cups cooked rice
½ cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons melted butter
¼ pound sharp Cheddar cheese, shredded (1 cup, rounded. Shred more for topping.)
Salt to taste
4 strips bacon, broiled and broken into bits

Combine all ingredients, mixing lightly with a fork. Fill onion cups with the mixture and set in a buttered shallow baking dish. Sprinkle shredded cheese over top of each onion. Bake in 350 degree F. (moderate) oven about 35 minutes. Serve hot. Other fillings may be corned beef hash, baked beans, or a savory mixture of ground leftover roast meat or cooked ham, soft bread crumbs, butter, seasonings. A good way to disguise leftovers!

Men will like these Onion Salad-Relishes:

Onion-Green Pepper Rings: prepare rings of Sweet Spanish onion and green pepper. Pour over them oil and vinegar. Let stand an hour or so, in refrigerator. Good with roasts, hot or cold, and with poultry; fine for vegetable salad garnish.

Onion and Beet Slices: combine cold sliced canned or cooked beet slices and thin slices of Sweet Spanish onion. Add oil and vinegar as desired. Let chill. Spiced beets may be used. Good with pork roasts, cold meats, fish.

Herbed Onion Slices: peel 3 large Sweet Spanish onions. Slice them crosswise about ¼-inch thick. Mix together 6 tender mint leaves snipped, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon fresh thyme or ¼ teaspoon crumbled dry thyme. In a flat dish arrange part of onion slices. Over them sprinkle some of the chopped herbs, salt, coarsely-ground black pepper. Repeat layers, topping with the herbs, salt, pepper. Mix together ½ cup olive or salad oil and ¼ cup red wine vinegar. Stir well. Spoon over the onions. Chill for an hour or more, spooning some of the dressing over the onions at least twice during that time. Good with buttered thick slices of rye or pumpernickel bread and boiled ham or cold sliced lamb on plate or made into sandwiches.

Lamb Chops A Company Meal Star

When the homemaker plans a luncheon or dinner party, frequently she chooses lamb chops as her main dish. Lamb chops, with their delicate flavor, combine well with the other foods on a party menu.

Lamb chops are easy to cook for they are tender and can be broiled. Rib or loin chops are usually chosen. Shoulder chops can also be broiled, but are also cooked by braising, that is in a covered pan with a small amount of liquid added.

When broiling lamb chops, care should be taken that they are not cooked at too high a temperature. A home economist and meat expert recommends distance of 2 to 3 inches between the heat and the surface of 1-inch thick chops for best results. At this distance, the chops will cook half way through by the time one side is browned. Turn them, brown the other side, season the chops and they are ready to serve.

Lamb chops should not be overcooked. And they should be served piping hot, preferably on warm plates. Broiled fruits served with the lamb chops add a festive flair to the menu—broiled cling peach halves with chutney, pears with chili sauce in the center are just two ideas.

While lamb chops, with their fine flavor, do not need fancy "fixing," simple but colorful accompaniments can be used for that "party touch." Here is a southern way of serving them—

Maryland Lamb Chops

6 rib or loin lamb chops, cut 1 inch thick
Salt
Pepper.
6 very thin onion slices
6 very thin lemon slices
6 tsp. brown sugar

Set regulator to broil. Place chops on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan so the top surface of chops is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Brown chops on one side, about 8 minutes, season and turn. Place an onion and a lemon slice on each chop and broil for 2 minutes. Sprinkle 1 tsp. of brown sugar on each lemon slice and continue to broil until chops are brown and sugar is melted, about 1 minute. Yield: 6 servings.

Saucy Casserole

One hot and hearty vegetable dish can be the mainstay of a light meal. Drain a can of blue lake green beans and mix the bean liquid with a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup. Layer the sauce in a casserole with the beans and chunks of parboiled eggplant, ending with sauce. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven until eggplant is tender.

WEDGIE CAKE—A 4-inch circle, scooped from the center of the top layer of this pretty pink cherry supreme cake, is divided into wedges and used to garnish the cake. The center is then filled with whipped cream or softened ice cream.

Get Enthused For Fall Meals

The calendar has so many wonderful, special days in the fall and winter months that it's easy to convince yourself that you want to do a lot of entertaining. With the first signs of crisp fall weather, your energy returns and you think of all the people you'd like to see, all the fun of parties that are really parties, and the special joys of each of the dearly-loved holidays ahead.

Carried away by your enthusiasm, it's easy to plan formal meals that require concentrated preparation and all your savoir faire as a hostess to carry them off. Why not plan now to include some labor-saving dishes that look and taste as though you had a staff at your beck and call! That is impossible? It's not, and here's a recipe to prove it.

Cherry Bavarian Cream Cake to might be the served-in-a-hush climax to the Thanksgiving evening dinner. Or, the first time you go to a theater party this year, perhaps you'll serve coffee and this cake to your friends after the play. On a Sunday afternoon, after a walk through bright autumn leaves, you'll serve the Cherry Bavarian Creak Cake to family and friends gathered to plan one of the season's festivities. Because it's such a fabulously good-looking dessert, you'll bring out the silver tea service and serve the cake in front of the living room fireplace, feeling for all the world like a formal lady from a nineteenth century novel.

But whether you serve Cherry Bavarian Cream Cake for Thanksgiving, or Christmas, or New Year's Day, or "just because it's Monday," you'll love serving it, because it's so easy to make. The secret is a cake mix. That's right, this luxury dessert starts with a mix. But what a mix: it's a Duncan Hines Deluxe Cherry Supreme Cake Mix. The gelatine-whipped cream "dressing" is easy to make, too (follow the recipe below) and combining the cake and dressing is a matter of minutes. With this cake in your refrigerator, you're ready for whatever the holidays may bring!

Because of its cherry color and flavor, the cake mix is one to remember for Washington's birthday, or Valentine's day, as well as for Christmas. But once you taste the cake, it will be impossible to save it just for holidays. No reason to, really, it's so easy to make, you'll serve it on ordinary days, too, and find them turning into holidays!

CHERRY BAVARIAN CREAM CAKE

1 package Cherry Supreme cake mix
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1½ cups milk
4 egg yolks
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
1 teaspoon vanilla.
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
Red food coloring
1-3 cup confectioners' sugar

Prepare and bake cake according to package directions for 2 9-inch layers. Cool for 10 minutes, then turn out on rack to cool. Meanwhile, soften gelatin in ¼ cup milk. Scald remaining milk. In top of double saucepan combine softened gelatin, egg yolks, granulated sugar, salt and cherry juice; stir until smooth. Stir in scalded milk and cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat and stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cool. Fold in half of the whipped cream and tint a delicate pink with food coloring. Divide the cream into 2 oiled 9-inch cake pans. Return cherry cake layers to the pans bottom side down. Press cakes into the cream so that the cream is forced up the sides of cakes. Chill until firm. Unmold by setting pans in hot water for a few seconds. Cut 4-inch circle from center of one cake. Remove circle carefully with spatula. Place ring on top of second layer. Cut the circle into 8 pieces. Arrange pieces around hole on cake. Stir confectioners' sugar and ½ teaspoon vanilla into remaining cream and fill hole, reserve a few tablespoons for decorative rosettes. Refrigerate until serving time.

What to Do With a Ripe Pineapple

Oven-fried Chicken
Brown Rice with Mushroom Sauce
Green Peas Bread Tray
Vanilla Ice Cream with Fresh Pineapple Sauce
Beverage

FRESH PINEAPPLE SAUCE

1 medium or large ripe pineapple
1 cup sugar
2-3 cup water
1½ teaspoons vanilla

Pare pineapple; cut into thin rings and core; slice into small wedge-shaped pieces. There should be 3 to 4 cups. In a saucepan (no larger than a quart) over low heat stir together the sugar and water until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a fairly gentle boil—bubbles should break closely over surface of water; boil for 7 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla; pour syrup over pineapple and cover tightly. Cool and chill. Serve as a sauce over vanilla ice cream.

Chocolate Cake, Creamy Frosting,

Chocolate cake with creamy coconut frosting makes a happy ending on this simple but delicious menu.

Honeydew Melon with Lime
Wedges and Green Grapes
Baked Ham Relish Tray
Hot Sourdough Bread
Chocolate Cake with Creamy Cocount Frosting
Beverage

CREAMY COCONUT FROSTING

½ cup butter or margarine
1-8 teaspoon salt
1 pound confectioners' sugar sifted
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons (about) milk or light cream
2-3 cup flaked coconut

Beat butter until soft; add salt. Gradually beat in part of the sugar. Beat in thoroughly the egg yolks and vanilla. Beat in remaining sugar alternately with milk until smooth and of spreading consistency. Makes about 2½ cups. Spread over top and sides of chocolate cake baked in a 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan; sprinkle with coconut.

Swiss Cheese, Ham Spread

Here's a good spread for a casserole meal.

Tomato Juice Crackers
Swiss Cheese and Ham Spread
Chicken and Vegetable Casserole

Chinese Show How to Cook It

For wonderful vegetable cookery, look to the Chinese! Probably nowhere in the major cuisines of the world are vegetables, cooked with more interest and respect than in Chinese cookery.

The Chinese are thought to have been the first to use dewy-fresh peas in gourmet cooking . . . but their flavorful secret was not to be kept behind the famed Chinese wall . . . in fact, it rapidly spread 'round the world.

Today, we can all enjoy jade-green, garden-fresh peas any time of the year, thanks to the development of quick-freezing methods which bring all the flavor and color of "just picked" peas to our dinner tables.

Frozen Green Peas-Pork Chow Yoke is a classic recipe to add to your list of specials for the days when the family demands something different.

FROZEN GREEN PEAS-PORK CHOW YOKE

- 1½ cups sliced onion (2 medium)
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms (3 ounces)
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil
- 1½ cups diced or slivered (¼x¼x2 inches) cooked pork (8 ounces)
- 1 can (8 ounce) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
- 1 can (5 ounce) bamboo shoots, drained
- 1 package (10 ounce) frozen green peas, partially defrosted and broken apart
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon ginger
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
- Dash white pepper
- 1 cup water
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce

Saute onion, celery and mushrooms in hot oil until heated yet crisp, about 2 minutes. Add pork, water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, peas, salt, ginger, garlic salt, pepper and ¼ cup water; toss lightly. Cover and heat 5 minutes. Blend together remaining water, cornstarch, and soy sauce; add to vegetable mixture and cook until thickened and clear. Serve on hot fluffy rice. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

Green Beans, Mushrooms Gourmet Dish

Here's a vegetable dish designed to please your most discriminating guest and simple enough to prepare often. Slender strips of cut green beans and sliced mushrooms are heated together in a delicious wine sauce. The wine that flavors this sauce so lightly and delicately is a sauterne or chablis from California. You can flatter any main course with this vegetable dish.

And to enhance the entire meal, glasses of one of the red, white or rose dinner wines produced in California is the perfect answer. Let the main dish decide the wine generally preferred are white wines with white meats, poultry and fish; red wines with dark meats and robustly flavored dishes and casseroles.

ROOMS GOURMET
(Serves 4)

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 (4-oz.) can sliced mushrooms
- ¼ cup California sauterne, chablis or other white dinner wine
- 1 (1-lb.) can French-style green beans, drained
- Salt, onion salt and pepper

Melt butter and stir in flour. Add liquid drained from mushrooms and wine. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Add mushrooms and drained beans to sauce. Season with salt, onion salt and pepper. Cover and heat thoroughly before serving.

West's Salad For Appetite Round-Up

Although the days of the Wild West are gone forever, the hearty appetites people had in those times haven't disappeared. Most families aren't out herding cattle all day, but even watching cowboys ride the range on TV can stir up hunger.

If the members of your family seem to have inherited their appetites from the rangers, you know that taking care of all the hungry "cowpokes" at your house means fixing plenty of good food, including big, bountiful salads to round out those hearty meals.

Here's a special tossed salad that can fill the bill for all-season eating enjoyment. The recipe for this Westward Ho Salad comes from test kitchens, and all the "fixin's" are easy to get any time of year.

A zesty sour cream dressing tops off the crisp combination of greens, colorful vegetables, and strips of cheddar cheese for a salad that will please the hungriest hand on your ranch.

WESTWARD HO SALAD
(Serves 6-8)

- ½ medium head lettuce
- ¼ bunch curly endive
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen peas, cooked
- 1 green pepper, cut into strips
- ½ cup sliced green onions
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup pimiento strips
- ½ cup chopped dill pickle
- 2 tomatoes, cut into wedges
- ½ pound cheddar cheese, cut into strips
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon freshly-ground pepper
- ½ pint (1 cup) dairy sour cream
- 1 tablespoon horseradish
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard

Break washed and drained greens into salad bowl. Add all but last three ingredients and toss lightly. Combine sour cream with horseradish and dry mustard; spoon over salad and toss lightly.

A Bombay Curry Salad Has 'Body'

Salads are de rigeur at buffet lunches, and if the salad has "body" to it, you need only serve it, hot bread, tea or coffee and a light dessert. "Bombay Curry Salad" has "body" galore. Golden slices of canned cling peaches, cubed turkey, celery and onion are tossed with mayonnaise, curry powder and other seasonings for a delightfully different salad. Pitted prunes rolled in coconut are the garnish, lending color as well as delectable flavor. Canned cling peaches — both halved and sliced — are a welcome addition to any menu.

BOMBAY CURRY SALAD

- 1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 2 cups cooked, cubed turkey
- 1 cup coarsely sliced celery
- ¼ cup sliced green onion and tops
- Crisp salad greens
- 8 to 10 cooked prunes
- 1-3 cup shredded coconut

Drain peaches. Combine mayonnaise, salt, curry powder and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Gently toss mayonnaise mixture, peaches, turkey, celery and onion. Heap into center of greens-lined platter. Pit prunes; dip in remaining lemon juice and roll in coconut. Arrange around edge of platter. Makes 5or 6 servings.

Bright Lights by Lloyd Johnson

New Entertainment for Woodside Pioneer Hotel

EARL 'FATHA' HINES brought a new entertainment beat to the Woodside Pioneer Hotel, last Friday evening, when a sell-out dinner and late-night cocktail gathering enjoyed what it heard and saw, Emil Miller, a familiar face on the Pioneer Hotel bandstand, plays the organ in the cocktail lounge Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. Many changes in the Pioneer under the new management policy — with more to come. Dining hours remain the same—and the delish Sunday morning brunch continues to be just that. Plenty of free parking space . . . Smile of the week came from Frank Dennison, general manager of the Sheraton-Villa Motor Inn, when he related a banquet reservation phone call received Wednesday. The party asked the usual price and menu inquiries, then made this request: "Please see that each guest has a "Bozo Bag" for their take home bones."

Earl Hines

EMERSON MURFEE, the Peninsula restaurant Midas, made special arrangements for his football patrons (spotlighting college and pro games) to view same at his Villa Chartier on Saturdays and Sundays. Cocktails and luncheon served from 12 noon. Big screen television sets in the cocktail lounge and the informal Fireside Room will provide the loge seats for the coming tussels. Air-conditioning is also an additional comfort. Dining and wining at the Villa Chartier has been a traditional for 38 years. "Meet You at the Villa" is still a Peninsula "password." . . . Charlie Fungo, "last of the overhand hitters" and the first Chinese outfielder in major league ball, is vacationing at Harvey's Wagon Wheel Resort Hotel, Lake Tahoe. Fungo is remembered for his baseball feats with the St. Louis Browns . . . The Las Vegas Thunderbird Hotel entered the Sport of Kings category last week end when horse racing began at Thunderbird Downs, located on the resort's grounds. Racing, featuring both thoroughbreds and quarterhorses, is set for five weekends . . . Leo Brothers, chief security Officer of Globe of Calif., hosted a party of friends to a Brentwood Lodge dinner before departing for Los Angeles.

E. Murfee

LEW LEHR overheard two ladies head-to-head in conversation at his Marina steak house: "She's a real busybody—she burns the scandal at both ends." . . . It's a must for San Franciscans who enjoy good food to dine either for lunch or dinner at the Cafe El Portal restaurant. Here, amidst beautiful surroundings, one can enjoy a complete dinner knowing that whatever they order will be delicious . . . In Finocchio's forthcoming fall musical revue, Singer LaVerne Cummings will be given top-star billing — due to Producer Lestra LaMonte creating a very unusual brand-new role for him. Noted as one of the world's leading impersonators of ultra-glamorous, young women, and a perfect model for luxurious gowns, Cummings has been a favorite at Finocchio's just as he was at Miami's and Atlantic City's smart supper clubs before com- to San Francisco . . . Aristo Fichera, waiter at Rocca's restaurant, was requested by the management of the S. F. Opera company to serve King Mohammend Zahir and Queen Homaira of Afghanistan. During intermission at the Opera, the King and Queen requested coffee and orange juice—no hard liquor.

Lew Lehr

BETTY SEDAM, the Miss who brought the new dining and entertainment policy to the Mountain View Caravan Inn, will soon be inviting you to dance. A new dance floor is under construction and, according to reports, will be ready for "foot traffic" come mid-month. The Macdonalds, "Patti and Mac," will play for dancing Monday through Saturday. Special attention: Omaha and Kansas City beef is served exclusively in the Persian Room. Buffet luncheon and coffee shop service until 2 a.m. The homemade pastries here are the very end— especially the coconut pie. Wow! . . . Uncle John's Pancake Houses also serve sandwiches, omelets, chef's salad bowls, and western chili, along with the many delicious pancake recipes . . . Nick's in Pacifica is the banquet target for numerous San Francisco groups as well as coast side lodges and clubs. Accommodations for parties of 25 to 350. Live music on weekends, featuring the 3-Beats and Vocalist Mary Ann Hay; Verna Wales at the organ during the week nights. Nick's is open seven days a week from 10 a.m. . . . If you're not right up to date on race information, the South San Francisco New Southern restaurant trio, Freddy, Reno, and Julio, can produce the answers at the drop of a suggestion—and maybe a Tanforan tip for the following

Betty Sedam

BRUNO SCATENA gets the nod of the week for the outstanding Italian food menu at his Joe's of Westlake. Dishes are cooked to order, sauces blended to taste perfection . . . The words "We never close" have gone to make the 255 "B" Street Tip Top a rendevous for late nighters, daily breakfast, lunch and dinner customers, alike. Steak and eggs is a most requested item at all hours . . . Besides enjoying a brisk restaurant business, Vince's Italian and Seafoods has a Sea Food Depot for home take out orders . . . 6:30 every evening you will find many City Hall clerks, attorneys and judges enjoying the cocktail hour at George Mardikian's beautiful Omar Khayyam's restaurant . . . Pancho's Mexican Cafe in Redwood City is best-known on the Peninsula for its choice food dishes, in spite of its award-winning decor. Their slogan, "It's worth your while to drive that extra mile" hits the taco right on the button . . . One of the fabulous dishes at Phil Lehr's downtown Steakery is the Pepper Steak Flambe: It's fresh-cracked cornpepper from India pounded into the steak, broiled and flamed with cointreau and brandy and served with pineapple sherbet to freshen the taste buds. Dee-licious!

B. Scatena

KEITH WILLIAMSON, the busy Burlingame chicken and steak man, has two dining rooms and private banquet or party facilities for the coming holiday season. Please make reservations well in advance . . . A repeat mention: If you're fond of soup and French bread, don't overlook the J and G Restaurant. "The soup's always on—and good." . . . If you say "batter up" at the Hyatt House Hotel in Burlingame, the entire crew, plus smiling bossman Ed Sullivan, come to attention. This is a baseball players' haven. Enthusiasm for the Giants, in most cases, has shifted to the Dodgers. That's just until after the current big games, of course . . . Ever hear of seven-course Italian dinner? Dine at the San Francisco New Tivoli restaurant The lease here is now on its 52nd successful year .

Goldenrod Is Plant of Week

PLANT OF THE WEEK is a rare species of goldenrod, solidago squarrosa, grown by Lawrence A. Heinle, an enthusiastic member of the Men's Garden Club of San Mateo county. Stems of this goldenrod are over six feet high and the flower trusses extremely showy. Photo by Heinle's grandson, Larry MacDonald.

Goldenrod, Solidago squarrosa, a rather rare species of this large family of woodland plants, is The Times Plant of the Week. Growing at the Graeme MacDonalds on Bridge road, the seed was planted by Lawrence A. Heinle, Mrs. MacDonald's father.

Heinle, an ardent gardener and believer in "color" in the front garden, was a leader in the San Mateo county Men's Garden club's "Green Ribbon award." (Residents of San Mateo county with lovely, colorful front gardens received green ribbons from the Men's club for contributing to the beauty of the community.) The club had to drop the program as members didn't have the time to properly cover such a large territory but they are considering reactivating it on a smaller scale, according to Heinle.

A nostalgia for some of the woodland plants around his boyhood home inspired Heinle to writ Leonard J. Uttal, an Eastern seed collector, for seeds of some of the native plants of that area. Among those Heinle received was Solidago squarrosa, a rather rare species of goldenrod indigenous to the East Coast and as far west as Ohio. It grows six feet or more tall and has a very showy, dense spike of golden flower heads.

Solidago is an herb that gets its "solidus and ago" to make solid or draw together in allusion to the supposed medicinal properties of the plants. Sixty species are known to grow native in Eastern North America with other species being located along the Pacific coast and Mexico and two or three in Europe. All together some 130 or 140 species of solidago have been found and classified.

The goldenrod is one of the plants that lends the glory of its bright coloring to the American autumn scene. In many places it blooms alonside blue and pinkered native asters making an unforgettable picture. Because goldenrods are so common and because they have been credited by many with causing hay fever they have not been appreciated as garden plants. Leonard Uttal writes that goldenrod is a much maligned plant where the hay fever is concerned as tests proved that it was not goldenrod that caused this suffering but the ragweed, a companion plant of the goldenrod area.

AVS Lawrence Heinle's plants prove, the goldenrod contributes a great deal to garden beauty. The plants improve in appearance with garden care, becoming larger and the bloom richer and fuller. They present very few difficulties. They are transplanted from the wild with ease and the grow easily from seed, blooming the second year after sowing. Some of them become weedy if the soil is too rich but a rich soil has been recommended for Solidago squarrosa. Most of them grow naturally in wooded areas so a semi-shaded location would be best to start them and later experiment with a sunny location.

Reports show that most all the solidagos are variable even within a species. Knowing this the wise gardener will mark fine individual clumps when they flower and destroy mediocre and poor flowering clumps. At the end of the flowering season the fine clumps may be divided to complete the planting.

They would make fine companion plants for michaelmas daisies in a border. If the stems in the clumps are thinned a little in the spring, and the remaining stems well staked, the plants put on a remarkable display. They are rampant growers and frequent divisions of the clumps, replanting only a few of the best pieces, is recommended.

Early Bloom For Plants

A trip through local nurseries shows a number of camellia japonicas and indica azaleas getting the jump on the regular flowering season for these evergreen flowering shrubs. This is good news as it lengthens the season for this type of color and answers the problem of what to use to lend flowering interest to a front entrance, patio or outdoor sitting area.

These early blooming camellias and azaleas are good buys as they will flower over many weeks. Individual flowers are long lasting and buds continue to open. They don't even need immediate transplanting but can be placed in an ornamental tub or other container to hide the can until their flowering season is over. Even then, there doesn't have to be any rush about getting them in the ground. In fact, they can be grown in the can for possibly another year before they would even need moving to a larger container.

Purchased in the gallon can size these early flowering evergreens can be arranged to make outstanding planter box attractions. Sphagnum moss can be used to hide any part of the can extending above the planter box. Kept damp, this moss improves the looks of the planter and keeps moisture and coolness around the plants.

Landscape Gardeners'

By IVA NEWMAN

The University of California at Davis, was host to some 250 professional maintenance gardeners, members of the Northern California Landscape Gardeners association. The conference, arranged by Mas Tsuda, president of the NCLGA; Kay Tanouye, secretary of the organization and R. H. Sciaroni, San Mateo county farm advisor, was planned to acquaint the gardeners with the new problems occuring in their maintenance work and ways to handle both new and old problems.

This was an educational, day-long work session for those attending, that began with a talk on "Working the Problem Soils" by Roy Branson, extension soils and water specialist from the Riverside campus. Branson started his talk by stating that every California soil needs something added in it to grow plants well. He then divided our soils into five categories: infertile, salty, acid, hard-to-work and shallow.

Every California soil, said this expert, needs nitrogen. Two and one-half pounds of actual nitrogen per 1000 square feet of soil surface is needed to grow things in our soils. He also advised the use of five pounds of phosphorus and five pounds of potash be used for this same amount of garden space. He modified this by saying that five pounds of nitrogen a year is needed for good maintenance but the phosphorus and potash could carry over for a year or more on certain soils.

Salty Soils

On salty soils he advocated the use of raised beds or high-tolerant plants. The speaker pointed out to the large group of members from the San Mateo Gardeners' association, that he had noticed "salt leaf burn" in Peninsula gardens. He suggested they use heavy irrigation to help keep the salt down in already planted gardens. In new gardens Branson suggested the use of gypsum, used at the rate of 500 pounds per 1000 square feet and to till into the top four to six inches would help. Roses, said this soil expert are one of the most salt sensitive plants. They develop poorly with scanty foliage and canes in addition to leaf burn. The pineapple guava is like the rose. Highly tolerant of salty soil are oleanders and bottle brushes.

In spite of the preponderance of alkaline soils in this area there are some overly acid soils on the Peninsula, said Branson. He suggested a soil Ph test where this was suspected. A Ph of five to eight is satisfactory for most plants but if the test shows the soil is below Ph 5 lime-stone should be added at the rate of one to two hundred pounds per 1000 square feet. Normal irrigation will then bring the soil up one to one and a half points.

Sticky, hard-to-work soils need material that decomposes slowly such as peat, redwood sawdust, fir bark, etc. Straw should not be used as it decomposes in one to two months. Redwood sawdust should be used at the rate of four to six cubic yards per 1000 square feet. He advised the use of 10 pounds of limestone per cubic yard and one pound of nitrogen to every 100 pounds of humus material. Branson advised against the use of manure in that it also breaks down too fast. Sawdust or wood chips from walnut and Incense Cedar trees should not be used as they have too much toxicity.

Pruning

"Pruning Your Shrubs" was Davis, extension oranmental horthe subject given William B. Davis, extension oranmental horticulturist at the Davis campus. Davis complimented the audience by saying that the finest pruners in California are the professional gardeners. Davis presented his talk with a chart showing active and slow growth periods of several classes of shrubs advocating that they be pruned just prior to their quick-growing period. Heavy pruning, stated this expert, is caused by using the wrong shrub in the wrong place. He also advised his audience that heavy pruning once a year was not the answer. Pruning all year should be practiced to keep shrubs and trees in good form. Fast-growing plants such as the Golden Euonymus should be pinched constantly and watched for fast-growing shoots. Davis illustrated his lecture with colored slides and later in the afternoon demonstrated in the test plots at Davis.

R. H. Sciaroni headed a panel consisting of Dr. Richard W. Harris, associate professor of landscape horticulture, Davis, and Stanley Mather, Sacramento county agricultural agent, on the discussion of "The Gardener's Responsibility to the Landscape Industry. Doctor Harris listed service to the customer and quality service as most important. The panel agreed that education plus experience was the answer to both the gardener's and the customer's problems.

Carl Koehler, Department of Entomology, Berkeley, opened the afternoon session with a talk on the new garden problem of dieback on juniper. This is a relatively new problem in California and Doctor Koehler stated most of it is caused by a small moth, Periploca nigra. The damage seems to be greater on tam junipers than other varieties though Pfitzer junipers are also showing damage.

HOMES & GARDENS

Nurserymen Elect New Officers

New state officers of the California Association of Nurserymen, elected at last week's annual convention at San Diego, paid their first official visit to the Peninsula chapter at last night's installation dinner meeting. On hand to congratulate the local incoming officers were state president, Ken Hartman, Leonard Coates Nursery, San Jose; vice president, Maurice Peairs, Claremont Nursery, Claremont; treasurer, Eugene Armstrong, Capital Nursery, Sacramento.

New Peninsula chapter president Edward Carman, Carmen's Nursery, San Jose, received the gavel from outgoing president Chester Williams, Green Hills Garden center, Millbrae. Officers installed with Carmen were vice president, George Haight, Western Nurseries, San Jose; secretary, John Kirby, Ruel-Wheeler Nursery, Coyote and treasurer, Ralph Bernstein, Schmidt's Nursery, Palo Alto. Installing officer was Jack Wick, assistant to can executive secretary Elmer Merz who was also present.

Charles Burr, past president of the local chapter reported the four hundred members attending the state convention had a wonderful time. They were given a tour of San Diego Bay including the naval installation where they saw the Bon Homme Richard and the Kitty Hawk plus some of the late type submarines. They were given a luau at the San Diego Rowing club and a luncheon in Balboa Park where they visited that city's famous zoo.

Business handled was an increasing participation in Scholarships in Ornamental Horticulture and assistance to the research program on Oak Root Fungus being pursued by the University of California. Burr reported that this research program had turned toward finding a treatment for soil infected with this fungus.

The new state president told the local group his policy for the coming year would be for an increase in the quality of merchandise offered the public, better service to customers, more information on both plants and gardening problems, and to maintain present prices in spite of rising prices in other lines.

3 Counties to Study Pollution

Officials of three counties agreed last week on the composition of a steering committee that will attempt to get public and private agencies together to do something about pollution of the bay waters.

Supervisorial members tentatively named, subject to confirmation by the respective boards were T. Louis Chess of San Mateo county, Emanuel P. Razeto of Alameda county and Ralph H. Mehrkens of Santa Clara county.

SERVICE NEWS

AIRMAN RICHARD O. Williams, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Williams of 680 North Mayfair avenue, and Airman William G. Nichols, son of Mrs. Alice M. Nichols of 213 Wellington avenue, both of Daly City, have been reassigned to Greenville Air Force base in Mississippi to attend technical training courses. Williams is a graduate of Westmoor High school. Nichols graduated from Jefferson High school.

He is the son of Mrs. Flora L. Smith of 380 San Diego avenue.

Students Help Teach Classes

Witnessing teachers at work is the main objective of three members of Westmoor High school's Future Teachers club. The three, Linda Long, Michael Lynch and Jill Carson, not only watch but they also work.

Jill Carson works with fourth and fifth grade students, Linda Long second grade students, and Michael Lynch, sixth grade students — all at Vista Mar school.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Christine Lugo of 241 Los Olivos avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that vandals had broken four windows in her residence.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of the occurrence commencing with the early morning tide and the successive tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

The columns at heights give the elevation of each tide above or below the level of Coast Survey chart surroundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign or dash (-) when the numbers are subtracted from the depths given by the chart (U .S. Coast and Geodetic Survey).

For all wage scales and classifications not listed above, or correctly shown the prevailing Union Scale established for San Mateo County shall apply. OVERTIME - not less than one and one-half (1½) times the above rates. SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS - not less than one and one-half (1½) times the above rates.

The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workman employed on the project.

It is the policy of the County that Contractors on public projects employ their workers and craftsmen from the local labor market wherever possible. "LOCAL LABOR MARKET" is defined as the labor market within the geographical confines of the County of San Mateo, State of California. Consistent with this policy the Contractor is requested to employ his craftsmen and other workers from the local labor market whenever possible to do so.

Plans and Specifications, and forms of Proposal and Contract may be seen and obtained at the OFFICE OF THE PURCHASING AGENT, Court House, Redwood City, California.

Plans may be taken therefrom on deposit of TEN DOLLARS ($10.00) per set, said deposit to be refunded upon return of the plans in good condition. Additional technical questions should be directed to the Office of the County Engineer, San Mateo County Office Building, Redwood City, California. No bids will be accepted from a Bidder who is not licensed as required by laws of the State of California.

The County of San Mateo reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and/or waive any informalities or irregularities in any bid received.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS,
COUNTY OF SAN MATEO.
BY: E. B. SMITH, PURCHASING AGENT.

DATED: OCTOBER 1, 1963.

To be published in THE SAN MATEO POST at San Mateo, California, Wednesday, October 9, 16, 1963. (P-79)
